

McElroy Agrees to Provide for Ban on Merger Possibility

Ike's Defense Program Will Be Reworded

Washington — (AP) — Secretary of Defense McElroy agreed today to try to reword President Eisenhower's defense reorganization proposal to rule out any possibility that it would merge the armed services into one force.

McElroy was a witness before the house armed services committee in a session that sounded much like a negotiating conference on possible compromises with critics of the White House plan. The secretary, however, carefully emphasized that he was only talking about attempts to work out suitable language and not agreeing to any changes in advance.

It was McElroy's fourth day in a row on the stand under sharp questioning.

Eisenhower's proposal laid great stress on unified commands which could contain elements from the army, navy and air force, and on providing a clear line of military authority over those commands from the secretary of defense and the president.

Won't Lose Identities
McElroy was asked today whether, if all the forces in the field were so organized, it would be possible for the separate military departments to lose their identity.

"I don't see how they could lose their separate identities if the legislation provides that they must continue to exist," McElroy replied.

He said it might be "a strictly legal possibility" that practically all the services might be organized under unified commands, but that this is a practical impossibility.

Then he was asked if he would agree to a limitation in the law to eliminate even the remote possibility.

"I would like to see how that would be worked out," McElroy replied.

He contended that the law even as it now stands might theoretically permit organizing practically all forces into unified commands.

Consider Exact Language
McElroy also agreed that "we might work out some suitable language" on the role of the enlarged joint staff which would be provided in the Eisenhower proposal. It was suggested that the law should make clear that this staff would control operations of unified commands, but not of the separate army, navy and air force units not involved in such commands.

McElroy asked for and was given more time to submit written answers to a questionnaire handed him at the outset of the hearing by Chairman Vinson (D-Ga.).

2 Fliers Killed in Crash of Stratojet

Lincoln, Neb. — (AP) — A B-47 Stratojet bomber assigned to the Lincoln Air Force base crashed shortly after takeoff from Goose Air Force base, Labrador, last night, killing two or three crewmen aboard, Lincoln base officials reported today.

The aircraft was on a training mission and was headed for Lincoln when it crashed on ice-covered Goose bay, about three miles from the Labrador base.

The dead were identified as First Lt. Benjamin C. Iglauer, of Baltimore, Md., pilot, and First Lt. Thomas H. Opsomer of Kawkawlin, Mich., navigator.

The survivor is the aircraft commander, Maj. Ivan C. Henry, Jr., La Mesa, Calif.

U. S. Chamber Airs Plan for Defense Funds

Would Keep Congress Control but Give Secretary Flexibility

Washington — (AP) — The U. S. Chamber of Commerce today proposed a new system of appropriating defense funds which it said would give the secretary of defense greater flexibility without weakening congress' hold on the purse strings.

At the same time, the big business organization urged congress to expedite a Pentagon reorganization along the lines recommended by President Eisenhower.

The chamber's views were outlined to a house appropriations subcommittee by Otto L. Nelson, Jr., vice president of the New York Life Insurance Co. and a member of the chamber's national defense committee.

Nelson, a retired army major general, said that all defense funds should be appropriated on the basis of military activities and programs rather than being earmarked for the separate armed services as now.

Rivalry Brings Waste
The present system, Nelson said, encourages rivalry among the services and results in waste of money.

Under the system advocated by the chamber, Nelson said, money would be appropriated on what he called a "defense-wide basis to these categories of military activities:

Personnel, construction of facilities, research and development, procurement and production of weapons and equipment, maintenance and operations and departmental administration.

This system, Nelson said, "would strengthen congressional control over spending as well as give the secretary of defense badly needed management flexibility."

Plane Carrying Irish, New York Officials Makes Forced Landing

New York — (AP) — A plane carrying Mayor and Mrs. Robert F. Wagner, as well as 76 Irish government and New York City officials, made a precautionary landing in Newfoundland early today because of trouble in one engine.

The dignitaries were on a preinaugural flight of the Irish airlines from New York to Ireland.

Plane Crash Victim Rescued in Oregon

Woman Recovering After Her Husband's Long Trek for Help

John Day, Ore. — (AP) — An injured woman was rescued late yesterday after lying helpless beside a wrecked plane since her husband set out pantless through the snow for aid Monday.

Doctors said Mrs. Bruce Davis, of Fresno, Calif., survived the ordeal because of her startling stamina and her husband's gritty courage.

After their plane crashed Monday in the snow-covered Malheur National forest 30 miles west of here, Davis took off most of his clothing, bundled it around his wife, and set off for help.

For a day and a half the 36-year-old orchestra leader floundered through deep snow—clad only in his undershorts, shoes and a light sport coat.

Wife Helpless
On Wednesday he stumbled into a deserted cabin. There he found a blanket, out of which he made a poncho, and a boy's cowboy hat. Then he set out again. He reached help early yesterday.

His wife, meanwhile, lay beneath a crude shelter rigged beside the wrecked plane. She was without food and lashed with pain from a hip fracture. The injury made it virtually impossible for her to move.

At a hospital here, where Davis and his wife were recuperating today, doctors said the 35-year-old woman was in amazingly good condition.

Aside from the hip fracture, though, she suffered extensive frostbite. Her toes and fingers were affected particularly.

"It was pretty horrible when

Little Blue Man and Pals Released but Can't Be Space Men

Bad Axe, Mich. — (AP) — The little blue man from outer space and his two satellites have been grounded.

Huron County Prosecutor James M. Umphrey released Jerry Sprague, 22, Donald Weiss, 23, and Leroy Schultz, 23, all of Bad Axe, yesterday on condition they stop playing space man.

Umphrey said Sprague admitted he was the man who has been bounding out of roadside ditches in recent weeks and into the path of approaching autos on lonely rural roads.

Umphrey said numerous motorists reported a man dressed in long blue underwear, a blue cape, blue boots and a blue space helmet had a habit of bounding in front of their cars just after dark. They said that when they stopped to investigate the blue man was gone.

The prosecutor said Sprague told him he and the others decided to play space man as a prank with Sprague taking the leading role because "it was my underwear and I was the only one it would fit." His two friends drove Sprague to and from the spots where he dashed out into the road.

Shrimp Boat Sinks in High Seas; 1 Dead

Rockport, Texas — (AP) — A shrimp boat captain staggered to a coastal ranch yesterday and told of a 2-day ordeal at sea which took the life of his crewman and cost him his vessel.

Capt. W. A. Fears, 31, of Brownsville, told the coast guard his boat became disabled Tuesday in high seas and sank Wednesday. He said he fought his way ashore with a raft yesterday, but L. E. Lind, 22, also of Brownsville, the mate, failed to make it.

Lind's body was found on an island beach about noon yesterday.

Fears told this story: Rudder Breaks
The rudder broke on the Ocean Bride about 20 miles off Port Aransas last Tuesday morning. He fixed it once, but it broke again.

He then dropped anchor and he and Lind manned the pumps as huge waves broke over the vessel. The shrimp boat capsized early Wednesday and went under within 30 seconds. Fears and Lind took to a small raft and drifted all day.

Late Wednesday they spotted land and fought the raft through the surf toward shore.

Fears said Lind went out of his head in the cold water and drifted away in his life jacket.

Fears said he slept for several hours after reaching shore then walked up St. Joseph's island, where he landed, to the St. Jo ranch and called the coast guard.

UAW Officers Get Pay Cut

100 Staff Workers Ordered Laid Off As Revenues Decline

Detroit — (AP) — The United Auto Workers union, now negotiating for profit-sharing and a wage increase from the auto industry, is cutting the salaries of 25 top officers and laying off 100 staff employees to offset a decrease in union revenues.

This was disclosed today by a union official, who declined use of his name.

Formal announcement of the economy measures was expected to come today or tomorrow from the union's international executive board, which has been meeting here this week to review contract negotiations and study the union's financial problems.

Top officers affected by the cut are President Walter P. Reuther, Secretary-Treasurer Emil Mazey; four vice presidents, Richard T. Gosser, Pat Greathouse, Norman Matthews and Leonard Woodcock and 19 members of the executive board.

Estimates of the amount of money saved ranged up to $50,000 a month composed, principally of the salaries of the laid off staff employees.

Reuther, who said in March that he received $20,920 in salary last year, would take a $2,092 pay cut under the plan.

There will be no reductions for employees who are represented by unions and covered by labor contracts.

The salary cuts and staff layoffs were caused by layoffs in the auto industry which have reduced the union's dues income. The UAW faces a difficult bargaining period with the Big Three.

Russian Vets Give Ike Friendship Bowl

Washington — (AP) — A group of Russian veterans who linked up with Americans in World War II presented a red and gold wooden friendship bowl for President Eisenhower today.

Col. Robert Schultz, military aide to Eisenhower, accepted the gift and said Eisenhower regretted he could not receive it in person because of his schedule.

Boris Nikolaevich Kampov-Polevoy, headed the group and made the presentation, expressing best wishes for Eisenhower's health. Interpreting for him was Eugene Zaostrovsky, second secretary of the Soviet embassy.

Steel Union Won't Forego Wage Increase

USW President Asserts Informal Suggestions Made

Pittsburgh — (AP) — The president of the United Steelworkers said today certain steel executives want the USW to forego a wage increase scheduled for July 1. He said the union has no intention of doing so.

USW President David J. McDonald told union members at a district 19 conference that such suggestions were made to him informally. He declared: "There seems to be a concentrated drive underway on the part of certain steel executives to have the United Steelworkers of America forego the wage increase scheduled for July 1."

Cites Contract
"What is the sense of writing a contract if one of the other parties regard it as just so many words written on paper?" McDonald asked, adding: "When we (USW) first signed a contract with U. S. Steel some 22 years ago we stated publicly that the union was doing so with the firm belief that a contract was a sacred thing. We have not changed that belief nor do we intend to change it."

McDonald did not say who made the suggestions but said U. S. Steel Corp. was not one of the companies "sending out feelers."

Under terms of a 3-year contract signed in 1956 after a 34-day strike steel workers are scheduled to receive a 9.1 cent hourly wage increase July 1.

The basic wage for steel workers now is $1.96 an hour, exclusive of 12 cents an hour in cost-of-living increases since 1956.

Tokyo — (AP) — Premier Nobusuke Kishi today dissolved the lower house of parliament in preparation for Japan's seventh postwar general election May 22.

Kishi's conservative liberal-democratic party is expected to be returned to power with a slightly decreased majority in the 467-seat lower house. The conservatives held 294 seats in the outgoing chamber.

Immigration Men Face Hearing as Result of Heikkila Deportation

San Francisco — (AP) — Bruce Barber, immigration service director here, and an assistant, Stanley Olson, were ordered today to show cause why they should not be held guilty of civil contempt in the deportation, a week ago, of an admitted former Communist to Finland.

William Heikkila, 52, was arrested on the street last week and flown secretly to Canada and then to Finland. He wasn't allowed to telephone his wife or attorney.

Today, a week later, Heikkila, smiling broadly, arrived in San Francisco after a transpolar flight from London, paid for by the government, after the immigration service said it appeared the method of deportation was "an error in judgment."

U. S. District Judge Edward P. Murphy today issued the show cause order against Barber and Olson.

Committee Approves Foreign Aid Bill

Washington — (AP) — A $3,603,000,000 foreign aid authorization bill has been approved by the house foreign affairs committee.

This total, $339 million below Eisenhower administration requests, may be trimmed further when the house takes up the measure in the week of May 4. The senate has not yet acted.

The bill approved yesterday sets terms and ceilings for the aid program in the fiscal year starting July 1. The actual money will be provided later in an appropriation bill.

Sen. McClellan Says All Interested Persons Should Have Chance to Air Views

Washington — (AP) — Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) told the senate today it would be unfair to consider broad gauge labor legislation without first giving all interested persons a chance to be heard on it.

McClellan, chairman of the senate rackets investigating committee, told his colleagues he doesn't want his own comprehensive labor bill debated as an amendment to a pending measure for regulation of employe pension-welfare funds.

The Arkansas senator's stand added powerful support to a movement led by Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas and some Republicans to avoid a showdown at this time on President Eisenhower's labor legislation proposals or a series of measures offered by Republican Leader Knowland of California.

Under questioning by Sen. H. Alexander Smith (N-NJ), Sen. Kennedy (D-Mass.) said a senate labor subcommittee heads will give consideration to Eisenhower's proposals in a series of hearings scheduled to begin May 5.

Kennedy said he believed the subcommittee and the full labor committee could report on a wide range of proposals, including those of Eisenhower, Knowland, McClellan and other senators, by early June.

Sen. Morse (D-Ore.), a labor committee member, has served notice that unless the group votes some broad proposed legislation by June 10 he will move to take the whole subject away from the committee and lay it before the senate.

Fears Delays
Smith told his colleagues he had offered the Eisenhower proposals as amendments to the pending bill because he was "apprehensive that unless these matters are dealt with at this time, there will be no action on them this year."

He described Eisenhower's program as "in no way repressive or harmful to organized labor."

He said it was "absolutely and completely untrue" that the amendments were offered in an effort to kill the pension-welfare bill.

Johnson said it was not only

Nixon Sees End to Economic Downturn

But Truman Predicts Another Bust Similar to 1929; Blames GOP for Creating Recession in America

New York — Vice President Nixon sees an end to the economic downturn under present administration anti-recession moves, providing both business and labor help to create buying power.

But if further governmental aid is needed, Nixon said last night, he favors the right kind of tax cut to a governmental spending binge.

Nixon spoke at the annual dinner of the bureau of advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association.

"We can state this one conclusion categorically," he said. "There will be no depression in the United States."

Meanwhile former President Harry S. Truman says Republican financial policies caused the economic recession. He predicted another bust similar to 1929 unless "somebody stops those fellows."

"Not to be Trusted"

Truman spoke last night at the annual $50-a-plate fund raising dinner sponsored by the New York county Democratic committee.

"The Republicans are not to be trusted with the command of the administrative or legislative departments" of either national or state governments, he said.

Nixon told the publishers the basic strength of our economy is backstopped by the determination of the national administration to use every proper governmental action to stop a prolonged recession and to help stimulate early resumption of a high rate of economy activity.

If further federal action proves necessary, Nixon said, a tax cut rather than major new spending programs would be "the fastest, the best and surest method" to stimulate business.

"However," he added, "a tax cut will not do the job unless it is the right kind. It must be designed to put money in the hands of the investors and job creators, as well as consumers."

"It will not do the job if it is used simply to provide a popular political handout in an election year."

Lower Prices

Businessmen can help, Nixon said, by recognizing that "this is a buyers' market and acting accordingly."

"New products, increased advertising, lower prices can have a dramatic effect on consumer psychology," he said.

Several publishers have told him, Nixon said, that their national advertising was down as much as 40 per cent in the first quarter.

"I can think of no more shortsighted action than this on the part of national advertisers," Nixon said. "The very people who have most at stake in the survival of our free economy should be betting on its growth rather than hedging on its possible failure."

Nixon asked labor to refrain from seeking wage increases "not based on increased productivity."

Such wage boosts, he said, "mean higher prices, lower sales, and fewer jobs for union members. A round of this type of wage increase would inevitably have a depressing effect on the economy at this time."

The right road to recovery, Nixon said, must be "private rather than government enterprise."

Judge Clears Cheryl Crane of Murder But Delays Final Decision on Future

Hollywood — Cheryl Crane, 14, cleared of murdering Lana Turner's lover, is out of juvenile hall today but not in custody of her mother.

Superior Judge Allen T. Lynch, sitting in Santa Monica juvenile court, yesterday gave Lana's mother two months' temporary custody of the teenager. The decision came just 20 days after Cheryl rammed a butcher knife into the stomach of Johnny Stompanato, a one-time henchman of former gambler Mickey Cohen.

The ruling was, in effect, a continuance of the juvenile court hearing until June 26. Then a reappraisal of the case will be made to determine who gets permanent custody.

my mother was one that I was hoping — and praying — for."

Jerry Giesler, Lana's attorney, said both she and Crane would have reasonable visitation rights with the youngster.

Cheryl, said by her father to be happier than she has been in weeks, spent the night at her grandmother's apartment in Beverly Hills. Later the two will move into a house which Lana and Crane will provide.

The tall teenager will not return to the fashionable boarding school at Ojai, Calif. She was on Easter vacation at the time of the Good Friday slaying.

Admits Burglary Of Silver Creamer From Archbishop

St. Louis — Glen Spencer Gilbreath, a man who takes pride in his work, admitted the burglary of a silver creamer upon learning the loot included Catholic Archbishop Joseph E. Ritter's silver creamer.

"Oh, my," said Gilbreath, "I would have to pick on him, wouldn't I?"

The shabbily-dressed Gilbreath, 72, boasted during the interview with police Thursday that he is "a top-flight burglar."

Police Capt. John Buck noted that Gilbreath's 12 convictions included two for burglary.

"Yeah, captain, but think of the times you didn't catch me," Gilbreath replied.

Captain Buck, who is retiring tomorrow, suggested that Gilbreath do likewise.

"Retire? Captain, old burglars never retire—they steal away."

On the way home from the hearing, Giesler's car had a flat tire. While the attorney, Lana and her mother waited, Giesler's chauffeur repaired the tire.

Lana said she had made no plans but hoped to return to her acting career.

"If," she added, "anyone will have me."

Wisconsin Doctor Receives Honor

Milwaukee — Dr. Glenford Bellis of Elcho, received the first annual distinguished service award of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association at the organization's 50th anniversary dinner Thursday night.

Dr. Bellis, believed to be the sole surviving founder of the organization, is 80 years old. The convention ends today.

At the time the organization was founded on Oct. 28, 1908, Dr. Bellis was city health officer for Antigo. He was one of the 22 men and women who organized the association in the state.

Dr. Bellis later became the assistant medical director of the state sanatorium at Wales, and the first superintendent of Muirdale sanatorium in 1915. He retired in 1938 and moved to Elcho, with his wife, spending the winters in Florida. He and his wife operate a trout farm at Elcho.

Tito-Soviet Relations Still Far From Good, Western Observers Say

Believe Only Complete Reversal by Khrushchev Will Restore Situation

Ljubljana, Yugoslavia — Western observers at the Yugoslav communist party congress here are convinced that nothing short of a complete somersault by Nikita Khrushchev will make him President Tito's pal again.

Since the party convocation opened Tuesday, the continuous flood of sharp words aimed at the Kremlin has demonstrated that relations between the Soviet and Yugoslav communist parties are about back where they were four years ago.

That was when Tito and Khrushchev started working to erase the damage done to Russian-Yugoslav relations by Stalin's cold war against his strongest Balkan partner.

No Sign of Easing

Yugoslav sources at the congress insist relations still are not so bad as in 1948, when Stalin read Tito out of the flock. But with no sign of easing in the current crisis between the Kremlin and Yugoslav communists, some circles feel it will not take much to drive relations down to 1948 depths.

However, speakers at congress insist sessions today adopted a moderate tone, indicating anxiety to keep the rupture from becoming a major crisis.

Foreign Minister Koca Popovic contended the dispute might even be a good thing for international communism but insisted Yugoslavia would remain out of both eastern and western blocs.

State Visit

Many think the state visit to Yugoslavia by Soviet President Klementi Voroshilov, scheduled for something next month, may be cancelled.

One thing seems certain: The riders, will resume operations Monday.

School officials said Thursday the trouble makers have been singled out and notified they can no longer ride the east side route bus. The route was suspended Tuesday.

Man, 81, Fined For Failing to Yield in Crash

Skidded 27 Feet,
Knocked Woman's Car
57 Feet Over Curb

An Appleton man who car skidded 27 feet past a stop sign into another car today was fined $25 for failing to yield the right-of-way.

Max Goeres, 81, 319 N. Rankin street, also will be charged three points against his driving record for the offense and three points for the accident.

His car collided with one driven by Mrs. Delphine D. Darling, 617 E. Atlantic street, Wednesday at N. Drew and E. North streets, knocking her car 57 feet over a curb onto a boulevard. Neither driver was hurt.

Henry Sabee, 77, 2118 N. Clark street, also was fined $25 for failing to yield the right-of-way and causing an accident. The offense and crash also will cost him six points against his driving record.

Sabee collided with County Police Sergeant Lowell Veitch's squad car Wednesday at N. Richmond street and W. Glendale avenue.

Joseph J. Coenen, 52, Aniwa, was fined $15 and charged six points for driving on the wrong side of the highway and causing an accident.

Bernard W. Schuh, 17, route 1, Kaukauna, denied driving after his license had been revoked and posted $53.20 bond for trial May 6 and $8.20 bond for trial the same date for no registration.

Leroy E. Deitz, 19, route 1, Waupaca, was fined $20 and charged four points for driving without a license.

Robert Brisco, 28, 18 E. Third street, Clintonville, was fined $10 for illegal parking.

Early April Sale of Rambler Exceeds Same Period of Year Ago

Detroit —P— Rambler sales in the second 10 days of April climbed 63.2 per cent over the comparable period in 1957.

Roy —Abernathy, American Motors corporation vice president, said Thursday that 4,819 Ramblers were sold in the period, compared with 2,953 in the like 1957 period.

Abernathy said 9,075 Ramblers were delivered during the first 20 days of April, compared to 8,074 deliveries during the entire month in 1957.

Riegel Paper Says 13-Week Earnings Up

New York—Riegel Paper corporation reports net sales of $14,856,769 for the 13 weeks ended March 30. This equals 61 cents a share for 1,311,788 shares.

During the same period of 1957, sales totaled $15,362,953, equal to 56 cents a share on 1,277,413 shares.

Curtain Call Production

Reviewer Calls 'Hobby-Horses' One of Year's Best Plays

BY LAVERNE KNEIBUSCH

Clever dialogue, good acting and an unusual plot made the 1-act play "Wild Hobby-Horses" by John Kirkpatrick one of the best at Appleton High school (this year. Seven acting members of Curtain Call comprised the cast. The play was directed by Miss Arlyn Zeller and presented, Thursday afternoon for the students.

John Kellogg practically stole the show with his excellent interpretation of William Carewe, a crotchety man of 60 who was convalescing at his home but anxious to get back to his business. While the rest of his family, who wanted him to retire, tried to amuse him with such things as chess, stamp collecting, and "how-to-do-it" books, he spent his time reading murder mysteries.

Finding that they could not get him interested in a hobby, the family finally concluded he must want to be a detective. His wife, who wanted her way and wanted to travel, was well played by Judy Rammer. The two sons had their own reasons for not wanting their father to go back to work. Arthur wanted to take over the business but Donald wanted to loaf.

Dave Anderson and Rocky Renier as the brothers were excellent in creating the right impression for each character. Anderson played the part of Arthur, the conceited, pompous young businessman who was very excitable; and Renier, in the part of Donald, was a playboy at heart, lacked ambition and was pampered by his mother.

Back to Work

While Carewe played with the idea of becoming a detective and the family was convinced that matters were settled, Ann, Carewe's secretary, suggested that many people read detective stories only because they want to become murderers. Carewe finally won the family's consent to let him go back to work after he made them think he had poisoned them.

Pat Lawless played the part of the secretary and Linda DeNoyer the part of the efficient nurse who would stand for no nonsense. Members of Curtain Call production handled the set and the staging and lighting.

Jack Burroughs, production director, was assisted by Robert Kohls. Students working with them were Judy Simon, Janet Hartjes, Jean Hartjes, Ruth Haupek, Charlotte Berg-huis and Linda Peckham, painting crew; and Joe Foley, Peter Strange and Don Weiss, lighting crew.

The make-up crew, directed by Mrs. Gene Nienow, consisted of Judy VanderLinden and Lynn Weinberger. Carolyn Crowe, Madalyn Evans, Karen Kirkpatrick, Annabel Lee and Pat Otis.

Machine Firm Reports Profit of $865,672

Madison —P— The Gisholt Machine company reported Thursday it had a net profit of $865,672 in 1957. The firm's annual report said the figure compared with $431,019 in 1956. President George H. Johnson said that the outlook for 1958 is "obscure and not as promising as in the past several years."

Jailed for Vagrancy

James Clark, 25, Detroit, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail under the day parole plan on a charge of vagrancy today in municipal court. Clark was locked up after he told county police he had no money, no job and had too much to drink.

Things to Do

Many Items Need Care Before Starting Trip

The time for the annual summer vacation will soon be here and many Fox Cities residents will be taking trips by car. There are many things to be taken care of before leaving home for an extended period. A check list is presented here for the things to do at home, for the car and for the vacationer himself.

For the Home

1—Have you temporarily stopped deliveries of newspapers, milk and laundry?

2—Have you provided for cleaning and care of the garden around your home?

3—Have you provided for your pets?

4—Who will pick up your mail, and where is it to be forwarded to?

5—Have you notified your neighbors and the police that you are taking a trip?

For the Auto

1—Are your tires entirely safe?

2—Has your car been checked by a competent mechanic for motor, clutch, brakes, transmission, cooling system, fuel system, ignition system and steering gear?

3—Do you have the equipment you may need, such as a good spare tire, complete tool set, tire jack, tire wrench, pliers and flashlight?

4—Have you the necessary car insurance protection for fire, theft, collision property damage and public liability, and will your insurance expire during your trip?

1—Have you planned your itinerary for the time available, places to visit, accommodations, points of interest, route information and necessary maps?

2—Have you a car registration and a valid driver's license bearing the correct addresses?

3—Are you taking such essential personal effects as a vacuum bottle for drinking water, camera and films, personal items, insurance, favorite toilet articles, sunglasses and a first aid kit?

Two Named to Positions With Community Fund

Two appointments for the 1958 Appleton Community Fund have been announced by Douglas Mann and Stuart Koch, campaign co-chairmen.

Robert O'Brien has been named public relations chairman and Albert Kobussen has been appointed chairman of participation by organized labor, the same post he held in the last drive. O'Brien also was active in the '57 campaign and developed the fair share scale of giving.

The annual October drive helps support eight local social service agencies: Appleton Apostolate, Children's Service society, Girl Scouts, Lutheran Welfare society, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Visiting Nurse association and YMCA youth program.

Combined Meeting Set on Cutting Down Number of Ice Rinks

A discussion on how to cut down the number of ice rinks the park department builds every winter will be held at 7 o'clock Tuesday night at city hall. Arthur Jones, park board secretary, said members of the school board, recreation commission, the council and the mayor will attend.

Wilson School Plans Annual Spring Event

Wilson Junior High school's annual spring program and open house has been scheduled for 2 o'clock Wednesday evening at the school. The program is titled "Around the World in 80 Minutes" and features student skits, dancing and music.

The program calls for selections by the concert band, orchestra and ninth grade chorus, a comedy panel discussion, a dixieland band, an African dance, a Spanish version of "Little Red Riding Hood," a choral camp meeting, a highland fling, a German band, tumbling acts, selections by a dance band, French singers and a soap opera skit.

Raymond Monteith, a faculty member, is general director.

Highway 41 Areas Patrolled by State Show Lower Crash Totals

A study of accident frequency along Highway 41 in areas patrolled by the state highway patrol indicates an overall decrease in the number of accidents last year compared to 1956, the Fond du Lac division of the patrol reports. The study covers only personal injury and fatal accidents.

In Outagamie county, where the patrol covers all of Highway 41, the study indicates a 75 per cent drop in January, 66 per cent drop in February, 57 per cent drop in March, 36 per cent drop in April, 20 per cent drop in May, 6 per cent drop in June, 17 per cent increase in July, 9 per cent increase in August, 8 per cent increase in September, 7 per cent increase in October, 10 per cent increase in November and a 3 per cent increase in December. All figures are comparisons with 1956.

Winnebago county, where the patrol covers all of 41, figures show in January, 33 per cent down; February, 20 per cent down; March, no change; April, 11 per cent down; May, no change; June, 37 per cent down; July, 9 per cent up; August, 10 per cent up; September, 17 per cent up; October, 28 per cent up; November, 16 per cent up, and December, 2 per cent up.

Konrad Ebisch Will Lead UW Camping Trip

A 15-day geography camping field trip to the great plains and Colorado Rockies will be led June 16 to June 30 by Konrad E. Ebisch, 218 W. Prospect Avenue, under the auspices of the University of Wisconsin extension division.

This is the first time the extension division is planning a study-camping tour on a non-credit basis. Ebisch, an instructor in geography with the division, is an experienced camper and has spent the last seven summers camping in the area to be covered.

Purpose of the trip is to follow early trails to the old west and give a view of the west today and the way it functions in the economy of the country.

No Center Jumps in College Cage Game

Laramie, Wyo.—The University of Wyoming and Oklahoma City university played a strange basketball game here. There was no center jump at the game's beginning or at the start of the second half. The game-opening tipoff was cancelled because Referee Marty Nash called a technical foul against OCU for having a player numbered above, a new rule this season. There was no center jump at the start of the second half because Nash called a technical foul against Wyoming Coach Ev Shelton for berating him in the corridor between halves.

Auto Deaths 18 Per Cent Under 1957

Wisconsin completed the first quarter of 1958 with 151 traffic deaths, 18 per cent fewer than for the first quarter of 1957, Motor Vehicle Commissioner Melvin Larson has reported. Two persons died in Outagamie county this year compared to four during the same period last year.

The 59 persons who lost their lives in March traffic mishaps represented a 13 per cent decrease from the 68 who died during March, 1957.

Although the state's 6.58 death rate per 100 million miles traveled was the highest so far this year, the rate for March, last year, was 7.73.

The March pedestrian death toll of 10 brought the total for the first quarter of 1958 to 30, compared to 31 for the same period last year.

A comparison of traffic deaths in area counties shows one this year compared to three during the first three months of 1957 in Brown county; none either year in Calumet; five in Shawano this year compared to seven during the same period last year; two in Waupaca this year and none last year; and six in Winnebago county compared to two during the first three months of 1957.

will raze an old garage and build a 1½-car garage at 1109 N. Richmond street for about $350.

Overinflating Tires Means Added Safety on Long Trips

Overinflating automobile tires when driving at high speeds or making an extended trip adds an extra margin of safety, according to automobile insurance company experts.

1—Check tire inflation weekly and maintain recommended pressure. Checking and inflation always should be done when tires are cool.

2—Inflate front tires a few pounds higher than rear tires to allow for the greater load at the front of the car.

3—Avoid sharp impacts, light turns and scraping against curbs, which may damage treads or sidewalls. Don't drive fast on new tires for at least 1,000 miles.

4—Examine treads frequently for imbedded objects which might eventually cause a leak.

5—Rotate tires at least twice a year and fit all valves with caps. Wheels should be aligned periodically and balanced.

Offer Hints
Tire manufacturers say a few extra pounds pressure in a tire to be driven at high speeds will reduce distortion and heat buildup. They recommend two to four pounds pressure above normal when speeds of 60 miles an hour or faster are expected for 20 miles or more.

Failure to keep tires inflated properly causes them to wear out faster. Five suggestions have been made to make tires last longer under all Travel and weather conditions.

Leon Fischer today was given the 62nd permit of the year for construction of a new home in Appleton. Building Inspector Walter Bogan's records show.

Fischer will build a 5-room house with attached garage at 2406 S. Carpenter street for about $15,000.

Other permits went to: Richard Van Zummeren, who will build a porch at 626 N. Outagamie court for about $400.

William A. Kennedy, who will raze the residence at 119 E. McKinley street for about $800.

John W. Vanderwyst, who

Green Bay Mayor May Make Run for Congress

Rachals Expected to Announce Candidacy for Democratic Nomination

Special to the Post-Crescent
Green Bay — Mayor Otto Rachals will become a surprise Democratic candidate for Eighth district congressional city hall and party sources predicted today.

Rachals is expected to make a formal announcement of his candidacy within the next two weeks.

Reports of Rachals' intentions to enter the race have been circulating in both Democratic and Republican party ranks since early this month, but the mayor has not made any public statement on his plans. Rachals Thursday said he had no comment.

It is known, however, that Rachals has been studying the Eighth district race and has sought opinions on his candidacy from friends and government and political associates.

May Face Singler
If Rachals enters the race, there is little doubt he will be faced with a primary contest with Milo Singler, Shiocton dairy and vegetable farmer, who opposed incumbent John Byrnes in 1956. Singler has remained active in party politics the last two years.

Singler said today he expects to make a decision on his candidacy within the next few days.

Spokesmen in both political parties expressed surprise over Rachals' decision. He was a Republican primary candidate for the state senate in 1951 in the old Brown-Oconto county district.

Mrs. William Cherkasky, Appleton, chairman of the Outagamie county Democratic unit, noted that county Democrats passed a resolution April 21 asking Singler to become a candidate. She said Rachals' candidacy would not change the stand.

Rachals has been mayor of Green Bay since 1955, after 13 years as an alderman.

Can't Endorse
Mrs. Helen Kasberg, former district Democratic chairman, greeted the report of his candidacy by describing him as "a political maverick."

"We can't endorse anybody (in the primary) but we would start right out in the district by forming clubs for Singler, assuming that he will be a candidate. We would make it plain that we don't want a political maverick candidate," Mrs. Kasberg said.

Associates of Rachals believe the mayor views the fall election as a strong opportunity to unseat Byrnes, despite his 14-year tenure, because of Democratic trends dating from the election of Proxmire last fall. They believe he is counting on the national issues of farm unrest and the business recession.

Byrnes Strong
Byrnes carried all nine counties in the district in 1956 in defeating Singler by 44,000 votes.

The Russians recently launched an atomic icebreaker but no western observers were invited. However, the Soviet Union's atomic power station near Moscow is a showplace for visiting foreign delegations.

Pravda said the United States dropped the first atomic bomb, has conducted more nuclear tests than any other country and now should follow the "noble example" of the Soviet Union and abandon further tests.

The United States recently invited members of the UN committee on radiation to attend new nuclear tests in the Pacific. The Russians were invited as members of that group.

Throat Tests Run on Yellers

Columbus, Ohio — Ohio State university is asking all its cheerleaders—past and present—to report for some throat tests.

Dr. Louis H. Diercks, professor of music, and Dr. Charles Doan, dean of the medical college, are looking for larynx nodules—small areas of inflamed tissue caused by broken blood vessels.

They say the nodules can be caused by shouting or screaming and they think cheerleading may be a major cause.

The Muddle on Farm Supports

The best contemporary example of muddled thinking and shirking leadership of our politicians on the problem of farm prices and government price supports of farm produce that has come to our attention lately was the address of Rep. Gardner Withrow of the Third Congressional district to the Republican caucus in his district at Richland Center.

Rep. Withrow is a veteran representative of that agricultural constituency. Indeed, he is one of this state's senior representatives in Congress. It may be supposed that he knows better than he said that night. But for reasons best known to himself, he insisted on uttering a maze of contradictions and absurdities which, for all of their irrationality, were fairly typical of what passes for political debate on this topic today.

Withrow allowed that his farmers don't want production controls by the government. But he said that as long as the producers of basic crops, such as wheat and corn and cotton, get 90 per cent parity support from the government, "my farmers" are entitled to it too. He did not mention that the growers of basic crops have acreage controls, by government order, as a price of their higher ratio of treasury subsidies.

Withrow then allowed, as any 10-year-old might conclude also, that depressed farm prices are related to surpluses. He is sure that without surpluses there would be better prices. A trenchant discovery! But he wants higher federal price subsidies for producers, nevertheless, although it should not tax anybody's imagination to divine that the higher the subsidy, the higher the production and the greater the surplus.

But Withrow is not yet finished with his inconsistencies. Look at the price of meat animals today, he admonishes. Pork and beef are at profitable price levels, a fact which he says is directly attributable to the fact that meat animal producers function in a free market and that "saner" heads resisted earlier proposals to have the government support beef prices in the market place.

"This group prevailed and today the beef cattleman is enjoying a normalcy that does not in any way hold a relationship to the commodities under rigid price supports," he goes on pontifically.

In this 15-minute peroration one of the leading national legislators of Wisconsin has managed to put himself on all conceivable sides of this troublesome farm economics question.

And more wonderful to behold, he was cheered by his audience!

It is this pathetic straddling among our public men—this deliberate equivocation on an issue they find uncomfortable—that is deceiving the farmer and confusing the rest of the electoral community almost to the point of hopelessness.

It must be perfectly clear by now that the only man who has a defensible, consistent and logical position on this matter is the secretary of agriculture, Mr. Benson, who has said quite simply, and with patient faith in the ultimate intelligence of the farmer, that production subsidies cannot succeed without production controls from governmental fiat, that production controls are directly counter to all our conceptions of democratic life, and that the farmers' most reliable prosperity must come through producing for the market rather than for the tax-supported surplus storage warehouses.

We muse, sometimes, about the place in history of some of our current political leaders. We would offer a guess that of those now serving, Ezra Benson's name will survive longer in American annals than those of most of his critics who substitute contumely for reason in fighting him.

Improbable Bedfellows

Connoisseurs will greet with enthusiasm the news that at last an effort is being made to beef up the American sandwich.

The trend toward art between two slices of bread is receiving generous support from major airlines and, if we are to believe current reports, the sound of satisfied burps soon will vie in intensity with the swoosh of quadruple, supersonic jet engines.

It started, we are told, when rules for transatlantic economy flights were inaugurated calling for food service to include only sandwiches—nothing more.

That, apparently, is when they began to ham up the act.

One airline official accuses another line of serving a sandwich which consists of three slices of roast beef, one slice of smoked salmon and two large slices of ham with "invisible bread."

We can't vouch for the invisible bread but the rest sounds like something out of a "Blondie" comic strip minus, perhaps, three pickles and a sardine.

Another airline says its economy passengers get three open sandwiches each consisting of one slice of bread covered with ham, salami, egg, egg and tomato or salt beef. Still another speaks of tasty sandwiches made of buttered bread and trimmed with fish, eggs, cold meat, salad, jam or fruit.

History is filled with incidents where fate has created strange bedfellows but none so improbable, perhaps, as the airplane and the sandwich.

We don't pretend to know the deep thinking that lies behind the trend toward bigger, more diverse sandwiches. We are happy to note, however, that there is a move afoot to restore the sandwich to its proper place in man's eating habits.

The sandwich, in recent years, has fallen upon evil times. It has come to be frowned upon by almost everyone; yet for the harried housewife, the busy executive, the active school child or even the aroused athlete the sandwich has been a faithful, filling standby whenever the stomach cries for immediate attention.

Some of the fault for this attitude falls directly on those establishments which perform such culinary capers as to astound even a starving man. A microscopic, tissue-thin filling between two slices of bread is not calculated to arouse the taste buds on any tongue.

There are, fortunately, some artists remaining in the land who can turn out masterpieces of sandwich perfection. They are, however, as hard to find as a slice of ham on a beany blue plate. Others who are adept in the art of making sandwiches are apt to be secretive concerning their methods, thus their skill is never handed down.

We hope the airlines of the world will revive the ancient and honorable art of sandwich-making. Moreover we hope that passengers who partake of these wondrous combinations will spread the word making their joy known to others.

Only one thing is certain at this point, however. The case of the glorified sandwich has created ample food for thought.

These Days

Israel Faces Dark Future With 2 Dictators Opposing Independence

BY GEORGE SOKOLSKY (Copyright, 1958)

The state of Israel this year celebrates its tenth anniversary. At this time, as Prince Faisal has said, the Arabs are more devoted than ever to the destruction of Israel. Incidentally, they also plan to destroy the independence of Lebanon which is about half Moslem and half Christian.

From the Arab standpoint, the issue is simple: Israel represents a western European enclave in the Arabic world. It does not matter that most of the Jewish inhabitants of Israel come from eastern European, African and Asian countries; the prevailing culture, the political and social systems, the educational methods, the trade and commerce are western European in all their manifestations. If Israel has 10 years more of life, its influence upon the youth of surrounding countries will be enormous. Nasser, who seeks to build an Arab empire, and who may succeed with the help of the United States and Soviet Russia competing against each other for his favor, desires no extraneous cultural or political force in his area.

No Aid from Russia Nasser will only compromise concerning Israel temporarily for consideration. In a word, if the United States pays for his dam, as it appears that we are, planning to do one way or another, he might, upon request, let up on Israel for a time. From Soviet Russia, Israel can expect no aid. Khrushchev is pursuing the anti-Jewish policy which Stalin developed in his latter years, a policy that reverts to the concept of an utterly monolithic society of the pan-Slavism of czarist days.

In the bolshevik revolution, it was Jews, Trotsky, Kamenev, Zinoviev, who fought against the tyranny of Stalin and gave their lives for that fight. Similarly, the Jewish writers in Soviet Russia were the ones who have been somewhat critical of the regime, even if their voices were like a whisper in a tornado. Who knows which of them remains alive?

This kind of independent thinking, Khrushchev does not need and although he boasts of a Jewish son-in-law or some such relative, he has made it clear that he wants no independence of thought, that he wants a tight, channelled organization in which men do as they are told and he does all the thinking. Jews do not lend themselves readily to such a concept of life. If they are at times out of step, it is because they are compelled by an ancient tradition to speak up. Khrushchev does not need them any more than Nasser needs them or Hitler needed them. Independence is not a desirable quality among dictators.

Religion No Excuse This, rather than religious differences or the Arab refugee problem, is the basis for the antagonism toward Israel. It will not readily die down and yet there are too many centuries of Jewish life in the Arab world to permit religious difference to be used as an excuse for Arab antagonism toward Jews. For instance, for centuries there were Jewish principalities in Arab countries. Itzhak Ben-Zvi, president of Israel, has written an ethnological and historical account of this intermingling of peoples, entitled, "The Exiled and the Redeemed." This book is neither propaganda nor apology; it is a scientific work. Particularly interesting are the Jews of Yemen, Kurdistan, Iran, Afghanistan,

Under the Capitol Dome

Thomson's Campaign Program Apparent

BY JOHN WYNGAARD Madison — If his recent Republican caucus speeches typify his approach to his reelection problem, Gov. Vernon W. Thomson has worked out the main themes of his campaign.

He will campaign on the record of Republican performance in state government — as predecessors have done successfully for more than a generation — and he will campaign against the Democratic party and its candidates as beholden to pressure groups rather than to the interest of the public at large.

The latter involves the alliance between Democrats and organized labor, a theme upon which Thomson can be expected to become more scathing as time goes on. Recent exchanges between Charles Schultz of the CIO and the governor have suggested that the latter's dander is up. The CIO labor captains have been so unequivocal in their scorn and their opposition to the Republican leader of the state administration that there now is no chance of maintaining even a pose of neutrality.

There is a possibility that the labor forces after the merger of the state CIO and the AFL unions will be more moderate. George Haberman, the president of the Wisconsin Federation of Labor and the prospective head of the fusion, has sometimes appeared fairly friendly to Republicans.

But whatever reservations some of the labor leaders have are likely to be private ones. On the record the labor movement will be mobilized for political action almost exclusively on the side of the Democrats, according to all the signs.

THE RECORD Under such circumstances, it probably is good strategy for the head of the Republican state administration to campaign on the record—for the observant citizen will find himself wondering, in view of that record, why the antipathy of the labor opposition is so deep.

As Thomson says, the state administration has managed to expand spending in some popular fields to significant degrees—including education, conservation and highways—without really substantial raises in the tax rates.

The governor has been boasting that he has managed to run the state without increases in absolute terms, of course, for there was that modest boost in the state tobacco taxes last year. Yet when the citizen thinks about state taxes, it is like that he is thinking about the basic tax, the income tax, and it is a fact, remarkable as it seems in retrospect, that the income tax was not increased.

The governor may also counter, if the going gets rough, with some statutory achievements of the kind that have always appealed to the liberals and the labor lobby before—the new and tough anti-lobbying law, for example.

Thomson might also exploit—it is the way of politics to do so—a subject that has a broad appeal and that rarely before has figured in campaigns. Conservation department progress under his regime, on the record, has been impressive and the department knows it and testifies to it freely. The big campaign in conservation today is wetlands preservation. It is a fact, demonstrable and undisputed, that the state's wetland acquisition and development program is the biggest ever conceived, thanks to 1957 legislation.

The Thomson fiscal theme is basically an appeal to conservatives. It is noteworthy that he doesn't promise tax stabilization for the future. Indeed, it doesn't require any gift of prophecy to know that state taxes are almost sure to rise during the next two years.

Yet politicians are not required to tell all in their speeches. It is in the nature of the system to put their best foot forward. Democrats aren't promising tax increases either, as they campaign for the votes they want to make those decisions in the state capitol.

Teachers association. They succeeded Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peters.

Potomac Fever — by Fletcher Knebel

You know times are gloomy when 2,000 Democrat women prefer to pay their way to Washington to hear how bad things are, rather than risk their money shopping at home.

Dr. Hagen, space expert, says we can put a man in a satellite in three years. He'll feel right at home. Big traffic jam—and no place to park.

First Republican candidate: "Are you running again this year?" Second Republican: "Yeah, and with luck, I may get out of the district before they catch me."

A hot dog costs 35 cents in the American pavilion at the Brussels fair. Having given away everything else, we're now trying to give away inflation.

Economists' recession jargon: "Deteriorating financial liquidity—pouring out the last of the soda water, so you can return the bottle and collect the nickel."

Successful know-how: A man who has a home, car and boat, no two of which are owned by the same bank.

The basic idea behind the Democratic scheme of lowering taxes and increasing spending is to get back to fundamentals—and use wampum instead of money.

Sunday Closing Move Threatens Freedom

Editor, Post-Crescent:

The people of this area are indeed fortunate in having for their news organ the Appleton Post-Crescent. A visitor from California, I have enjoyed its pages for several months. Congratulations on your good reporting and unbiased news coverage.

Lately I've detected a discordant note in Appleton's "Citizen Symphony of Life" in the agitation for a Sunday closing enactment.

Like the Arab's camel of old, requesting protection from the cold, this monster intrudes his, apparently harmless, head into your tent. His whispered request (on the surface and at first thought), seemingly logical and innocent is, "Let's close business on Sunday." Be not deceived. His ulterior objective is to "get" your liberty—your enslavement!

It matters not what pretext may be used for the "blind." Hunters may bedeck themselves with a few branches from a nearby tree, or their blind may be quite elaborate, but the desired end is ever the same—capture of the unsuspecting quarry.

In this late attempt, the "Grocery Stores" is the blind and you, the citizen, are the prize. Let none deceive you.

dividual liberties are non-existent under such schemes. America has already lost far too many liberties to such ideas!

You may reason with yourself, "If I were a grocer, I wouldn't keep my store open on Sunday." That's all very well and good. It's your right and your privilege. But the moment some enactment is made requiring you to close on Sunday, that very moment your rights and your privileges cease to be.

Consider the spider and the fly. The surest and the soonest way into bondage is to yield. Just idly do nothing about it. The fly, by struggle, may escape.

People of Appleton, arouse! Protect your liberty now. Tomorrow it may be too late!

S. Thern Johnston, M. D., Santa Ana, Calif.

Moral Foresight

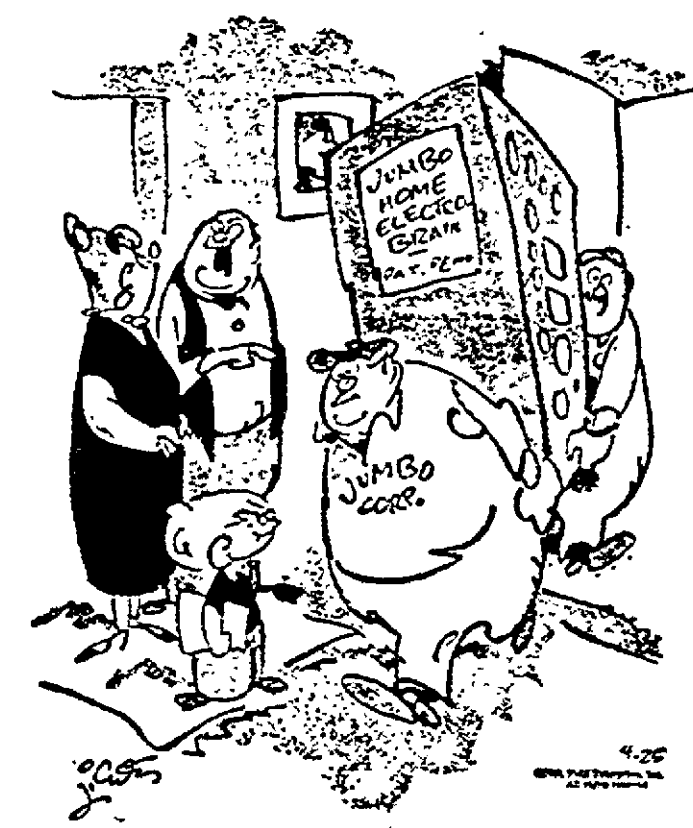

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Congratulations to the editorial staff of your paper for having the courage and moral foresight to publish the editorial, "Tragedy in Hollywood." I wish that it could be printed in every secular newspaper, to be not only read but to be digested.

Young Hobby Club Grass Pull, Footprint Game Good for Hike Rest Period

A game to play while resting on a hike is called "Grass Pull." Each hiker picks a long blade of grass, choosing one that, as in Figure 1, looks strong. Turning to his neighbor, each player loops his blade of grass around his neighbor's and the two pull.

The winners continue competing until one player is finally the grand victor and has the broken blades as well as his own unbroken one. Midget Footprints is the second stunt. Make them in the dust along the road, or in the sand at the beach. Figure 3 shows what such a print looks like.

The print is made by clenching one hand and carefully pressing the side of the fist (where the little finger is) into the sand. The part near the wrist will make the imprint of the midget's heel and the little finger will make the ball of the foot.

This game is played with grass. Lift your hand carefully and with your index finger make until one blade breaks (Figure 2). The player whose blade sure a barefoot midget or baby breaks is the loser and hands has walked down the road.

Word Changes

Change one word into another, word, one letter at a time, each time forming a good word, until the desired word is reached. For example, LOVE can be changed into HATE thus: Love, lave, late, HATE. Test yourself on these:

- HOME to WORK in four steps.
- LOSE to FIND in four steps.
- LOOP to BELT in four steps.
- SOCK to HOSE in six steps.
- CARE to MIND in four steps.
- SKIT to PLAY in four steps.

ANSWERS

1. Home, some, sore, wore, work. 2. Lose, lone, line, fine, find. 3. Loop, loot, boot, bolt, loop. 4. Sock, rock, rack, race, rose, hose. 5. Care, mare, mire, mine, mind. 6. Skit, slit, slat, slay, play.

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED:

"Most" should not be used in the sense of "almost." "Most" means greatest in number, rank, or importance. "Almost" is an adverb meaning not quite, less than, nearly. Thus: "Ted was ALMOST killed." It was ALMOST midnight when he arrived.

OFTEN MISPRONOUNCED:

Alms. The "l" is silent. Pronounce as "ahmz."

OFTEN MISPELLED: De-

crepit: "it," not "id."

SYNONYMS: Sparkle (verb).

Five Performances for St. John Production

'Mississippi Melody' Musical Comedy To be Given at Little Chute School

Little Chute — Theater students of St. John High school have completed rehearsals for their final production of the season, "Mississippi Melody."

The show is based on the immortal creation of Mark Twain, "Tom Sawyer." Adapted as a musical comedy and staged with all the story-book flavor of adventurous living along the Mississippi river, the story dates back 100 years ago.

Performances are scheduled, for Saturday and Sunday with one show at 2:15 in the afternoon and another at 8:15 in the evening. Tuesday there will be another evening program with curtain time at 8:15. Admission is $1 for adults, 50 cents for teenagers and 35 cents for children.

Family Feature

Special feature of the week-end performances is a "Fun for all the Family" theater party Sunday afternoon at the matinee. Admission for the entire family will be $2 and a special prize will be awarded to the largest family present. Guests for the matinee will be the second grade children of St. John school who will make their first communion that day.

Heading the list of characters for the production is Marlon Verbeten as Tom Sawyer, Eugene Gritton as Huck Finn, Don Spierings as Joe Harper and Sanja Van Domelen as Becky Thatcher. Carol Berg-huis will be Aunt Polly and Henry Wildenberg will portray "Pudd'n Head" Wilson.

Football letterman Dick Hietpas and Ed Hammen share the role of Uncle Dan'l, Tom Sawyer's favorite Negro friend. They also carry the solo in the choral rendition of "Old Man River."

Steamboat Crew

Bringing excitement to the sleepy town of Hannibal, Mo., and joy to the hearts of the "Missouri" girls are the jolly crew of the famous "Caro Queen." Captain of the steamboat is played alternately by Kiehl Versteegen and Andy Ebbesen. Leading the feminine contingent are Val Van Domelen and Pat Jansen alternating in the role of Mary Sawyer.

Costumes for the boys in the production have been fashioned by the home economics classes at the school. The entire production is being directed by Sister M. Honora assisted by a stage crew.

Youth Loses License for Fast Driving

Kimberly — The driver's license of a 16 year old Appleton youth was revoked until July 4 in justice court Wednesday night when he pleaded guilty of speeding in a school zone.

Ronald Buss, 1318 W. Prospect street, Appleton, also was ordered to pay court costs. He was arrested April 15.

Robert Dercks, 327 Main street, Kimberly, was fined $20, and costs after he pleaded guilty to speeding April 18.

Gerald Vanevenhoven, 325 Wilson street, Little Chute, was ordered to attend safety school and pay court costs when he pleaded guilty to following too closely. Vanevenhoven was arrested April 16 after an accident.

Edwin Witthuhn, 247 Karlyn street, Kimberly, was fined $10 and costs for illegal passing. He was arrested April 17.

Edward Skinkis, Krakow, charged with illegal passing, failed to appear after asking for a postponement of trial. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

Lloyd Coenen, route 1, Kaukauna, asked for a change of 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning and 1, 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Prospective summer

Teachers From State Graded Schools throughout the county gathered at Kaukauna for the annual spring meeting and heard Dr. Virgel Herrick, education professor at the University of Wisconsin, speak. Left to right, visiting are Mrs. Pearl Kollath, principal of Badger State graded school, Dr. Herrick, Mrs. Rosemary Dericks, Little Chute, Mrs. Hazel Thatcher, county supervising teacher and Wayne Hull, Combined Locks school principal. ## Parent's Day to Be Held Saturday In Art Classes

Kaukauna — The Kaukauna recreation department sponsored art classes will hold their annual parent's day activities in the Golden Age clubrooms of the municipal building Saturday.

Parents have been assigned times to appear with their children, according to Mrs. Roger Bell, instructor. Students will show parents their art work in the order it was done to give parents an idea of the progress. The instructor will explain the nature and aims of each lesson, evaluate the child's growth and give notes on his or her particular characteristics as judged by work accomplished in art classes.

Conferences are scheduled for 10 and 11 o'clock in the morning and 1, 2 and 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Prospective summer

Scout Scrap Metal Drive on Saturday

Kimberly — Plans have been completed for a scrap metal drive which Explorer Scouts of Post 44 will sponsor Saturday. The drive will open at 10 o'clock in the morning and residents are asked to place articles on the curb for easy pickup. If assistance is needed in moving out scrap, Mark Vande Yacht, scout adviser, should be contacted. Proceeds from the drive will be for the post trip in June.

Correction

Kaukauna — The Bethany Lutheran church Ladies Aid society bake sale will be held May 3, not Saturday as stated in Wednesday's Post-Crescent. The paper was misinformed.

Rights on Concessions, Squad Car Bids Being Accepted by Village

Little Chute — Bids for a new squad car and for concession rights at American Legion Athletic field are being accepted by clerk-treasurer Mrs. Loretta Versteegen.

Bids are to be turned in by 8 o'clock May 6 when the board holds its regular meeting at the council room in the village hall. Those bids for rights to operate the concession stand at the athletic park will be based on a percentage of gross receipts.

Kimberly Mill Keglers — Three teams of keggers from the planning and materials department of the Kimberly Clark mill defeated a three team squad from the Neenah mill Wednesday night.

The Kimberly mill squad topped the total pin decision by a 166 count. The team from Neenah was from the staff and planning department.

Committee Approves Summer Recreation Office Personnel

Kaukauna — Members of the health and recreation committee of the common council met with the recreation director Wednesday night to review names of applicants for summer employment with the recreation department. Other business taken up had to do with the summer recreation program and maintenance of recreation equipment and facilities. Gerald Hopfensperger appeared before the committee to explain the need for an outdoor basketball court and told how it would be used to stimulate interest in the sport through summer programs. His plan was favored by Fred Barribeau and Harold Kohn, also represented at the meeting. The committee voted to recommend to the council the building of an outdoor court in the vicinity of the softball diamond. A recommendation was made to have the library grounds filled, leveled and rolled to prevent injury to youngsters playing in the area. The council was asked to inspect tennis courts to ascertain the amount or repairs necessary. Members voted to recommend the painting of the swimming pool buildings and the grandstand at the baseball field.

Persons Hired

Personnel approved for summer employment include Gerald Hopfensperger to coach Legion baseball, handle a basketball program and instruct archery classes. Elaine Warnecke was hired to teach tennis and archery for girls.

Miss Mary Jane Appleton was appointed assistant recreation director, a post she has held in previous summers. Judy Nagel was named traveling park superintendent and Mike McGoeys was put in charge of maintenance at the swimming pool. Recreation clerk will be Pat Zuelzke.

KHS Juniors to Take National Merit Exams

Program Proposes To Find Students Of College Ability

Kaukauna — A group of juniors at Kaukauna High school have signed to take the National Merit Scholarship tests Tuesday under the direction of Julian Bichler, principal.

Purpose of the program, conducted throughout the nation, is to find students who demonstrate extraordinary ability to benefit from a college education. Winners of the contest are awarded a 4-year scholarship to the college of their choice. Over 12 million dollars in scholarships have been awarded in the first three years of competition, according to the principal.

Student's Participating

Juniors signed to take the test are Gerald Biese, David Vanevenhoven, Richard Kemp-en, Donald Feldkamp, Robert Nyles, Theresa Bloch, Ter-rance Sharron, Thomas Prop-er, Thomas Heckner, Peter Heindel, Darlene Vils, Oliver, Darlene Vanden Broek, Margie Ryan and Pat Wettstein.

Play supervisors for the various parks and swimming pool, attendants will be appointed at a later date.

Residents Asked To Check for Cancer Envelopes

Kaukauna — Residents were asked Thursday by Mrs. John Russo and Mrs. Harry McAndrews, co-chairmen of this year's cancer fund drive in Kaukauna, to check their homes to see if the contribution envelope has been forwarded to their neighbors.

Several large envelopes containing neighborhood collections have not been completely circulated and block captains would like to have the drive completed as soon as possible to permit tabulation of results.

Many areas have already completed their canvassing and the contribution envelopes turned in to the co-chairmen. The local leaders would like to complete all tabulations before the end of the month.

Black Creek Girls at Conservation Camp

Black Creek — Jean Droeger and Janice Lathrop are at the Trees for Tomorrow camp at Eagle River as representatives of Seymour Union High school.

Miss Droeger, as a Seymour High vocalist, won a third place at the Menasha district music festival.

Kaukauna Births

Kaukauna — Community hospital today announced the following births:

Sons to: Mr. and Mrs. Edward Van, Berkel, 817 E. First street, Kimberly. Mr. and Mrs. George Rander-son, route 1, Kaukauna. Daughter to: Mr. and Mrs. Dan Voet, 507 Forester avenue, Kaukauna.

Youth Given Probation for Burglary, Fire

Valdis Krastins Also Ordered to Pay $2,497 For Damage to Home

Valdis Krastins, 21, 124 N. Green Bay street, who admitted setting fire to and burglarizing the home of a family whose daughter did not return his affections, was placed on probation for seven years by Municipal Judge Oscar J. Schmieg Thursday afternoon.

Krastins was given seven years probation on a charge of arson. The sentences will run concurrently. The young man also was ordered to pay $2,497.42 to compensate Mr. and Mrs. Janis Alksnis for damage to their possessions and home at 1530 S. Jefferson street.

Krastins, whose parents and the Alksnis family were friends, set fire to the Alksnis home a year ago Good Friday. Both families were displaced persons, from Latvia. The families were attending Good Friday services, when the fire was set. The former Miss Valija Alksnis, who has, since wed, had regarded Valdis as a friend, but Valdis told police he was jealous of the man she was preparing to marry.

Judge Schmieg said he would determine the rate of paying restitution Monday. Krastins has been free on $3,000 bond furnished by his parents since last May. Judgment for the amount of damage to the Alksnis home and their possessions was entered in February after lengthy negotiating sessions between attorneys.

Judge Schmieg indicated he had considered that Krastins at the age of seven or eight had watched a tank battle near his Latvian home, seen people shot, and others tortured. The youth had spent 5 1/2 years in a displaced persons camp in Germany where no educational facilities were available before coming to the United States in 1950.

In addition, Krastins' sister, the only other child, was killed in a car-train crash in 1955, complicating the youth's relationship with his family and the Alksnis daughter.

Cancer Drive At $6,082 of $14,865 Goal

The mid-campaign report for the Cancer Crusade indicates $6,082.82 has been collected toward the county's $14,865 goal. The announcement was made by John Donahue, Appleton, general campaign chairman.

A breakdown shows $1,015.15 from industry, $465.55 from business, $906.50 from special gifts, $3,094.07 from the neighbor-to-neighbor drive, $314 from organizations, $240.50 from memorials and $46.60 from rural areas.

The drive is scheduled to conclude at the end of April.

what is this LIVING FURNITURE that people are talking about?

"It's 'alive', all right," says Arthur Godfrey, "but if you can make words sound like a symphony... or paint a sunrise with the type on this page... then—and only then—will I try to describe the Niagara Cycle-Massage action that you get in Niagara Living Furniture. All I know is that it makes you feel wonderfully refreshed and relaxed within a few minutes of the time you sit or recline on it."

Clinical tests prove—and many thousands have already affirmed—that Niagara Cycle-Massage® does help to increase blood circulation... to induce deep, natural sleep... to provide relief from tension. It is a remarkable drugless method that may well help provide new zest and joy of living for every member of the family.

Fall of 1960 New Date for Completion of High Bridge

A new timetable for construction of the College-to-Cahoon high level bridge was reported today by Director of Public Works Edwin J. Duszynski.

Stressing that he was making a guess, Duszynski said the bridge may be opened in early fall of 1960.

Earlier guesses had placed the completion date at sometime in the summer of 1960.

The structure will be 1,386 feet long and cost about $1-800,000, the state highway commission's Green Bay district office has said.

His new timetable, Duszynski said, puts the opening of construction bids sometime in late July or early August and start of construction about Oct. 1.

Two Years To Build
It is estimated the bridge will take about two years or less to build.

At present, three appraisers are contacting property owners whose land or air rights will be needed. Each property owner is being furnished a drawing of how the bridge will affect his property, Duszynski said.

The board of public works, at its May 6 meeting, is expected to appoint a board member to act for the board in negotiations between the state and the property owners.

Early in May it is expected state highway engineers will meet with the city and representatives of utilities over detailed bridge and approach plans.

The call for bids probably will come sometime in early July, Duszynski said.

Jake Skall, Wife Given Separation

Mrs. Skall Awarded Colonial Wonder Bar; He Gets Car, $125,000

Post-Crescent Oshkosh Bureau
Oshkosh — Mrs. Agnes Skall, 55, this morning was granted a divorce from bed and board from Jake G. Skall, 57, Appleton supper club owner, by County Judge Herbert J. Mueller.

The couple was married at Appleton April 5, 1921, and separated in 1957. She charged cruel and inhuman treatment. Their two grown sons are not affected by the decree.

She will get the Colonial Wonder Bar and its business and the Colonial Drive-in business in the town of Menasha and will assume their indebtedness on the property. She also will get her home at 2209 Carleton avenue in the town of Menasha, a lot in the Palisades area of the town of Menasha and the lots on Cherry court in Appleton.

Mrs. Skall also will receive the 1956 model car and the household furnishings. No alimony was requested or granted.

Must Pay Him $125,000
She is to pay to Skall $125,000 at the rate of $25,000 in cash in 20 days and the balance at not less than $5,000 per year and interest at 3 per cent a year. The payments are to be secured by a lien on the real estate awarded to her.

He also will get the 1957 model car, his personal effects, the cash in his safety deposit box and his personal checking account at the Appleton State bank.

Hungry Burglar Trapped in Cafe With His Meal

A hungry burglar was trapped in Barry's Cafe, 216 N. Oneida street, about 1 o'clock this morning.

A patrolman noticed that the screen from a rear transom window was missing, called for assistance and found a 22-year-old laborer crouching under a table in the restaurant. With the burglar were a bun, wiener and leavings of a bag of potato chips.

The man admitted that he cut a hole in the transom screen and pushed open the window, forcing two screws loose. He said he took some ham and rolls, then the wiener, bun and potato chips.

The bus station portion of the building had not been entered and the man had not taken anything except the food, police said.

Union Loses NLRB Election At Chilton

Aluminum Specialty Workers Reject IAM As Bargaining Agent

Chilton — Employees of the Aluminum Specialty company voted to drop the International Association of Machinists union as a bargaining agent by a 2-vote margin Thursday.

The final unofficial count tallied 50 votes to discontinue the union's services and 57 requesting that they be retained.

Election was conducted from 2:30 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon under the supervision of Rush Hall, Chicago, field examiner of the National Labor Relations board.

The IAM was voted in by a small margin in the summer of 1956 and the first work contract was signed in January of 1957.

A few weeks ago employees petitioned the NLRB to drop the union as a bargaining agent on the basis it did not represent a majority of production and maintenance workers.

The Chilton firm is a second plant of the Aluminum Specialty company of Manitowoc.

Spring Chorus Attracts Near Capacity House

Kaukauna — A near capacity house turned out for the annual spring chorus by the Kaukauna High school vocal groups Wednesday night in the civic auditorium.

Vocal groups under the direction of Adrian McGrath entertained mostly with light and airy numbers including many popular selections, the more familiar and popular classical selections, peppy spirituals and popular selections from stage plays.

Included on the program were the 88-voice mixed chorus, the 85-voice girls' glee club from grades nine and ten, the 45 voices of juniors and seniors girl glee club, the 32 voice boys' glee club and 25-voice boys' glee club.

Several duets, trios, triplets and other ensembles also entertained. Soloists appearing on the program included Gerald Schumann and Barbara Boyd with vocal selections and Lynn Pechmann with a piano solo.

Manawa FHA Plans Dinner

Manawa — The annual mother-daughter banquet of the Future Homemakers chapter of Little Wolf High school will begin at 6:30 next Thursday night in the old gym.

The mothers will be welcomed by Joanne Cronce, FHA president, and the response will be given by Mrs. Erwin Piott.

Mrs. Eugene Eder, route 3, New London, former home economics teacher at the school, will speak on "What FHA and Home Ec Have Meant to Me."

Presentation of awards will be made by Mrs. James Olds, home economics instructor.

Mary Ann Riske will give her demonstration, "How to Make Date and Nut Bars." Installation of officers also will be held.

The program will be climaxed with a style show, featuring clothes made by the FHA girls either at school or at home during the year.

The Family Council Seesaw Results When Parents Compete for Children's Love

Editor's Note: The Family Council consists of a judge, a psychiatrist, three clergymen, a newspaper editor, a women's editor and two writers. Each article is a summary of an actual case history. The Council reports on problems that have been dealt with by responsible agencies and counselors.

Theresa M. — My husband pampers the children.

Henry M. — She's too strict.

Theresa M. — My husband and I have been married six years and have three young children. Our marriage would be quite happy if it weren't for our many quarrels about the children.

I feel that, as a mother, I know what is best for them. My husband feels he ought to be allowed to do just as he pleases with them, but he has no sense at all about what is best for them.

Every night he comes home with different toys for them and the house is flooded with more things than they can ever enjoy. Henry thinks nothing of waking up a child late at night to give him a kiss or a new toy. He takes the children out on Sunday and exhausts them and gets their stomachs upset with all kinds of treats. Then I have to spend all the next day caring for the child.

Henry M. — I was orphaned at an early age and brought up in my grandparents' home. They were very strict and I had none of the things most children enjoy. I had no sisters or brothers and I often longed for one I could play with and maybe spoil a little. Naturally, I want to give my kids some of the things I missed. I feel Theresa is much too strict with them. She is often nervous and yells at them or swats them for no good reason at all.

Whenever I want to do something with one of the kids, Theresa's immediate reaction is "No." If she sees me playing and laughing with the kids, she says they're getting too wild and noisy. She seems to resent my having anything to do with them. After all, they're mine too, and I care about them at least as much as she does.

The Council: Somehow these parents seem to have fallen into the pattern of competing for possession of the children, and that is certainly all wrong.

Henry makes an understandable case out of his reasons for wanting to give his children as much fun as possible. But if Theresa's accusation that he endangers the health of the child is true, it is obvious he has some other selfish motive for his excess pampering.

On the other hand, if there is truth in Henry's accusation that Theresa always tries to restrain his fun with the children, it is obvious she is resentful of something in that relationship.

We suspect each of these parents is egging the other on.

Each feels pushed out of the picture by the other and the children are the unhappy victims of this shameful struggle for power.

When parents are in constant open disagreement, children are forced to take sides. The children may begin to think of their mother as a shrew and a kill-joy, or they may think their father is a fool and will suspect his treats are really intended to buy their affections.

They will also dimly suspect they are being used as pawns in a battle they don't understand and will feel they have been denied their rightful share of parental love.

If they are truly concerned about the children's welfare above all else, Theresa and Henry will discuss their disagreements privately and rationally. It is always possible to arrive at a compromise if there is genuine desire for the welfare of the family on both sides.

If there isn't, outside help from a physician is in order.

Lawrence Players' Melodrama 'Mercy Dodd' Acted With Gusto of 'Good Old Days' Olio Takes Honors Too

BY JAY JOSLYN Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The Lawrence Players Thursday night presented evidence to substantiate the phrase "the good old days" in their production of Dion Boucicault's "Mercy Dodd" complete with olio.

The theater of the 19th century had its foundation on style. Despite the very modern arena presentation at Lawrence's Memorial union, the collegians under the expert direction of Theodore Cloak were replete with that basic ingredient.

The entire act olio was a high-point of the evening without taking anything away from the play.

Exciting Performance Miss Emmy Bunks gave an exciting demonstration of the Delsartian technique in the classically sentimental declamation, "Lips that Touch Liquor Will Never Touch Mine."

Peter Negronida, John Ross, Henry Harris and Peter Switzer appeared as a barbershop quartet and Jodi Regenburt and Arno Haering danced a period soft-shoe. John Peters and Carter Johnson performed on banjos and sang. The Terrace room interlude itself is worth a visit to the union tonight and Saturday or next weekend.

But the meat of the evening was the play, the melodrama. Director Cloak's familiarity with Boucicault derived from his extensive study of the master of the genre was evinced by the transition from the broad, fun-loving style of the melodrama to the intimate confines of the arena without losing the spirit or flavor of the dated piece.

The problem solved by the college actors was to bring cardboard characters alive in a plot soaked with sentiment and contrived action.

Most Successful Arlene Nelson was most successful in her role as the wronged woman who hides her secret from the world. The whole cast did yeoman service.

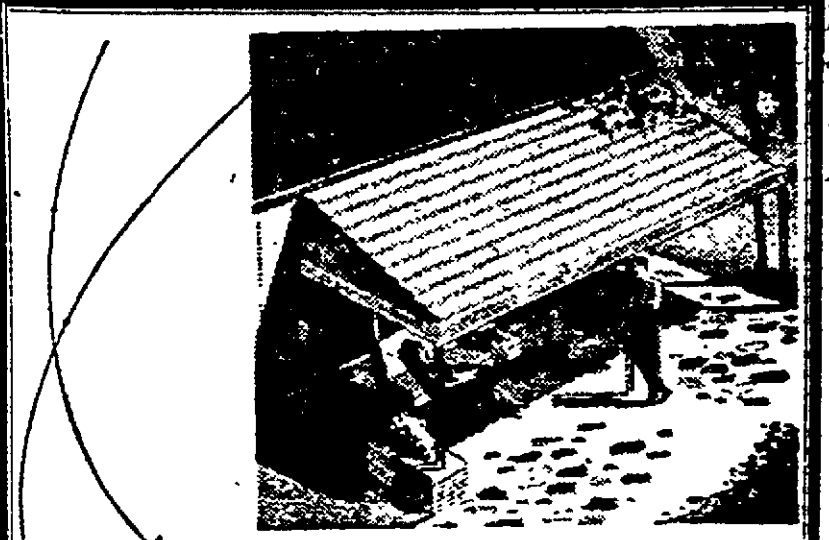

Jon Pearl as the unregenerated product of London's gutters scored on every comedy point and Charles Fisher, his reformed buddy, gave feeling to a very stock character.

James Fetterly also achieved moments as the self-centered, preening villain. Walter Scott was mainly in the 19th century manner as the put-upon hero and Peter Negronida carried off the ancient, nobleman role.

John Ross played the detective role to good effect. The young ladies of the company, Beverly Baldwin and Jeanne Voll, were the most faithful to the 19th century spirit in their posturing roles.

The need for the broad style of the century past is no longer present. What is left in a production in the grand manner is the fun for audience and actors.

Perhaps in no other type of production is the rapport between viewer and performer so complete. Missing a chance to participate in this nearly rare, fun would be foolhardy for anyone who likes enjoying himself.

Mrs. Robert Otis, program chairman, will introduce Dr. Paul Cunningham and Mrs. Stanley Hamilton who will show the film, "Time and Two Women." A question and answer period will be conducted by Dr. Cunningham after the movie.

Sheboygan Home for Newlyweds

Sheboygan is the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Rudd, who were married April 19 in a morning ceremony at St. Ann Catholic church, St. Anna.

The bride is the former Lola Halfmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert K r u p p, route 1, New Holstein. She is a graduate of Kiel High school and is employed in the office of the Dillingham Manufacturing company, Sheboygan.

Mr. Rudd, a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, is a staff member in the Sheboygan office of the Wisconsin State Employment service. He is the son of Mrs. Alma Rudd of that city.

The Rev. John Haen, pastor of St. Ann church, performed the 11 o'clock ceremony, Mrs. Catherine Krupp served as matron of honor, Delmar Halfmann, brother of the bride, as the best man, and Melvin Kraus, brother-in-law of the bride, was the usher.

A reception for immediate family members was held at Schwartz in St. Anna.

Card Winners

The Skat club met Thursday evening in the Moose hall for cards. Winners, in numerical order, include William Hackstock, Ed Doerfler, George Busch, Leo Steffen, and George Schmidt.

The group will meet next Thursday for the regular meeting.

Bride-Elect of Arthur Kositzke Honored at Party

Miss Nancy Khoenle, Maisalon, Ohio, the bride-elect of Arthur Kositzke, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kositzke of Appleton, was honored at a pre-nuptial party during her recent visit in Appleton.

Aunts of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. Paul Wollerman and Mrs. Oliver Tracy, entertained for Miss Khoenle Saturday night at the home of the bridegroom's parents at 821 N. Morrison street. Among party guests was Mrs. H. Charles March, the daughter of the William Kositzkes, who has since left for her home in Trenton, Ohio.

Miss Khoenle will be wed to Mr. Kositzke in June 7 rites at St. Paul Lutheran church, Maisalon, Ohio. The bride-elect is a graduate of Capitol university, Columbus, where Mr. Kositzke is currently studying at the university's Evangelical Lutheran Theological seminary. Miss Khoenle is now employed as office manager of the Foreman's club, Columbus.

Tell High Scorers At Card Event

Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary has announced winners of an open card party held Thursday afternoon at the hall. They are Mrs. Anna Holtz, Walter Huelbeck, Earl Timm and John Orth.

A similar event will be given at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, May 1.

Slate 'Seniorvue' Program for Scouts

A "What's My Line" program Monday night will reveal the meaning and opportunities of Senior Girl Scouting for eighth grade scouts and their parents when the older girls hold their "Seniorvue" party at Trinity English Lutheran church.

The program will be held between 7 o'clock and 8:30 in the basement of the church.

"Fun, Opportunity and Service in Senior Scouting" will be the topic for the evening. Robert Beltrone, head of the civil defense program in Appleton, also will talk on civil defense work.

Various senior troops will have charge of the different activities for the evening with Troop 35 under the leadership of Mrs. Ray Nagreen piloting the program. Members of Troop 119, Miss Nancy Mayer, leader, will present the flag ceremony; Troop 126, Mrs. J. L. Tibbetts, leader, the closing ceremony; Troop 191, Mrs. Ron Turner, leader, will be hostesses; and Troop 86, Mrs. Oscar

Married Saturday at the Evangelical Lutheran church in Manawa were the former Miss Iris Anna Schultz, above, and Robert Farmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Farmer of Niagara. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arno Schultz, Manawa. The Rev. Carl F. Luedtke performed the double ring rites. (Carter-Hanson Photo)

Wise Vacationer Who Travels By Car Heeds Beauty Hints

Approximately 72,000,000 people vacation by car, and that figure is increasing each year. A holiday by automobile should be much more than seeing how far you can travel in a limited time period. It can either be a leisurely drive to a pre-selected vacation spot—or an adventurous exploration of the countryside, with spur-of-the-moment stops at places you like.

Whichever way you decide to plan it, an automobile vacation can be a wonderful opportunity to improve your looks.

RELAX—If you're in the driver's seat, two or three hours of travel at a time are enough. Take frequent breaks, even if they consist only of stopping the car off the road, and getting out for a short walk, a deep breath and a stretch.

If you're a passenger, use your time to advantage by watching the scenery, day-dreaming to your heart's content, alternated with simple exercises to decrease tension. For example, relax your facial muscles by smiling broadly, and then quickly dropping the smile. Take the kinks out of your back by lifting and dropping your shoulders a few times. Ease the strain at the back of your neck by slowly moving your head forward, backward, left and right, and then stretching your neck upwards.

EAT CAREFULLY—A box of cookies is tempting as an on-the-road pick-me-up, but thirst-quenching and much more beneficial to figure and complexion are fresh fruits, carrots and celery, kept frosty cool in a plastic zipper bag with ice cubes. Fresh air stimulates the appetite, so splurge once-in-a-while on meals if you must, but in-between times keep a calorie count, sticking to iced or hot tea and coffee, or fruit juices on those frequent stops.

Keep Clean
PROTECT YOUR SKIN—If you're driving in a convertible, or if you keep the car windows open, the force of the air, filled with particles of dust, will irritate your skin. Protect your face and hands by cleansing thoroughly several times a day. Afterwards apply a protective and softening foundation or lotion, or, if you're exposed to the sun, a burn-deterrent cream. Don't forget your arms, particularly if you are leaning out of the window.

A more oily lipstick than you usually wear will protect your lips, and a bit of oil on your eye-lids (and dark glasses, of course) will keep your eyes from becoming puffy and tired. Your beauty aids can be kept in a kit close-at-hand—in the glove compartment, or in an over-sized handbag, so that you can reapply them from time to time. Remember to take along a washcloth, a soft hand-towel, soap in a soap dish, toothbrush and toothpaste—the most basic of "refreshers."

CARE FOR YOUR HAIR—Wind, dust and sun play havoc with your hair. Before you start your trip, put hair into condition by a visit to your hairdresser. After that, more-frequent-than-usual shampoos and a little lanolin or brilliantine added to the ends of your hair will keep it fresh and shiny. There are many new types of scarf-hats on the market that are both becoming—and practical, by keeping hair from becoming wind-blown and dusty.

Beauty Sleep Important
ORGANIZE YOURSELF—Nothing makes you feel (or look) better than reflecting an air of confidence. The easiest way to obtain this confidence is to be well organized. Take time now and then to sweep out the car, straighten the glove compartment, rearrange your luggage. When you stop overnight, stop early enough so that you can do your laundry, fix your nails, take a leisurely bath and even a short nap before dinner. Try to get at least seven hours of sleep each night, preferably more.

Above all, remember that you're on vacation. Take it easy—and drive carefully.

2 Appleton Mothers Weekend Guests at Milwaukee-Downer

Two Appleton women will be guests of their coed daughters at Mothers Weekend festivities Friday and Saturday at Milwaukee-Downer college, Milwaukee.

They are Mrs. Bertin J. Dittmer, 2319 N. Union street, and Mrs. Vernon L. Zimmerman, 211 N. Lawe street. The Misses Mary Dittmer and Lois Zimmerman are junior students.

Events on the calendar of activities include a spring play, "Tower Beyond Tragedy," on Friday and Saturday nights, a buffet luncheon Saturday and during Saturday afternoon campus tours, coffee hours to meet faculty members and performances by the college choir and the Reader's Theater.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Menning Appleton Couple to Mark 50th Year of Marriage

Appleton Coed to Be Counselor at Carthage College

Miss Judith Ferron, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ferron, 286 River drive, has been named one of the student counselors at Carthage college, Carthage, Ill., for the 1958-1959 school year.

Miss Ferron is a sophomore at the college this year, majoring in elementary music education.

As a junior counselor, she will live in a freshman girls' dormitory next year with the duties of helping incoming coeds adjust to college life.

June 7 Nuptial Date Chosen by Rose Ann Kempen

The approaching marriage of Miss Rose Ann Kempen to Dan Lee Polley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Polley, New London, has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kempen, Sr., West DePere.

The couple will wed in 9 o'clock rites Saturday morning, June 7, at St. Boniface church, West DePere.

Find Space for More Furniture in Picture Window Room

A picture window can be given too much power over the furniture arrangement. It seldom should have the right to force living in what amounts to a three-failed room.

Of course there should be little obstruction of the view from the big window which really frames an interesting picture outdoors. But very often the need for more and convenient seating in the room justifies partially cutting off a corner of it.

Here are three ideas which plot more furniture into the room by making better use of a corner and just one end of the window wall. At upper left, a sectional sofa with a new variation of shaping for its units makes unusually graceful and efficient use of the space. The angled unit in the center is wide enough to seat two and the bumper end can be sat on to face three directions, including right-about-face to look out the window.

Arrangements that turn a window corner almost always leave more space free on the solid wall. A sofa alone is usually placed more nearly in the center of the wall, but a part of an angled grouping, it slides nearer the window. With a straight, one-piece sofa the grouping can be added to by a long table or bench with or without a chair beyond it. As at upper right, the table can be the kind that rests little benches under it to pull out for extra seating, and there's a clear view outdoors over table and bench tops.

If the two deeply comfortable lounge chairs the living room must have, have been moved about restlessly because their best location never was found, set at least one of them at a right angle to a sofa with the back to the window. Set them both there if there's not reason enough to keep so much of the view unobstructed, perhaps with a table between them. Or place the chair and table grouping in the center of the windows to leave a view out doors from both sides. (See window corner almost always leave more space free on the solid wall.)

In Good Taste No Switch For Personal Invitation

BY EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: I have received an invitation to a large semi-public cocktail party given for a celebrity. I will be out of town at that time, so will not be able to go. I mentioned this invitation to a friend of mine and she said that she wished she could go in my place. I would like to know if it would be proper to have her go in my place?

Answer: If you are an unknown person invited to a large general party, it would be perfectly all right; but if it is a really personal invitation, it wouldn't do at all.

Gifts of Money

Dear Mrs. Post: My parents announced my engagement last week at a rather large party. I received quite a few gifts of money from relatives. Does this money belong solely to me to do with what I please, or should it be put in a special account in both our names to be used later for something in our house? Some of my friends feel that the money was a present to me and therefore I can spend it in any way I see fit. Will you please give me your opinion?

Answer: It will be all right to spend this money for articles of your trousseau if you wish to, but if you don't need it for that, it would be better

League of Women Voters To Study Nation's Foreign Policy, Water Resources

Atlantic City, N. J.—(AP)—Foreign policy and water resources are the national issues that will be given intensive study by the League of Women Voters over the next two years.

The two topics were agreed upon Thursday after two and a half days of debate and the rejection of dozens of amendments.

Their selection completed the main work of the league's 23rd national convention, attended by 1,027 delegates. The meeting ends today with installation of new officers and the adoption of a budget.

In addition to its major areas of study, the league listed five other subjects which it called its continuing responsibility.

These are opposition to limiting executive and congressional powers in foreign relations; measures granting the president authority to veto items in appropriation bills; opposition to constitutional limitation on tax rates; self-government for the District of Columbia, and the federal loyalty security program.

The water resources plank in the league's program follows through on a conservation study conducted over the past two years, while foreign policy replaces the loyalty security study as a major program item.

A nonpartisan organization, the league was founded in 1920 to study governmental problems. It claims a membership of over 128,000 in the United States, Alaska and Hawaii.

Your Problems

Daughter's Beauty Isolates her, Suggests Her Doting Mother

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN: I'm sure you've never had a problem like this. I have a daughter 22. She is so beautiful that it's ruining her life.

When ever she walks on the street people stare at her. Recently a woman on a bus shoved her husband out of his seat because he couldn't take his eyes off my daughter. I saw this myself.

Even when she was a small child her beauty was a problem. All the children envied her. She had very few friends. No one wanted to go with her because they were afraid of the competition.

My daughter dates a few fellows but she never has a good time because she attracts so much attention her escorts get annoyed. Also, several boys have gotten into fights over her.

Please, Ann, tell a heart-broken mother what can be done about a girl whose problem is her beauty?—MRS. Q.

This girl's problem is not her beauty—it's her mother.

Your unhealthy preoccupation with your daughter's looks have given her a distorted picture of life.

Starting in her early childhood when she had trouble making friends you led her to believe it was because girls were jealous of her. Instead of pointing out that it's how we treat people that determines whether or not they like us, you provided a ready excuse for her failure to make friends.

Good looks attract. They are a plus, not a minus. If your theory were correct, all beautiful people would be friendless. Beauty is a problem only when the person who possesses it feels that the world revolves around that beauty. Nothing could be further from the truth.

DEAR ANN: My husband and I have been married (if you can call it that) for seven years. He has a habit of just picking up and leaving for no good reason. This has happened six times in the last two years.

I know he's been seeing other women. When I tell him I don't approve of this kind of a life he says I can hit the road if I don't like it. Frankly, I don't know why I stay with him. He's offered me a settlement if I will divorce him but I've refused.

He won't go to a marriage counselor, a clergyman or a doctor. I keep thinking things will get better, but instead they get worse. Our little girl is four years old and she has seen so little of her father she sometimes doesn't even know who he is. What shall I do? I am so mixed up I am ill.—F.A.J.

See a doctor and a lawyer—in that order. Your marriage is nothing but legal imprisonment for both of you. Since he'll do nothing it's up to you. Tell him to "hit the road."

Apparently he hasn't been home very much, so in case he's not sure of the address write it down for him so he can send the support checks in the mail. (P.S. But don't be quick to give him a divorce. He may grow up. Miracles do happen.)

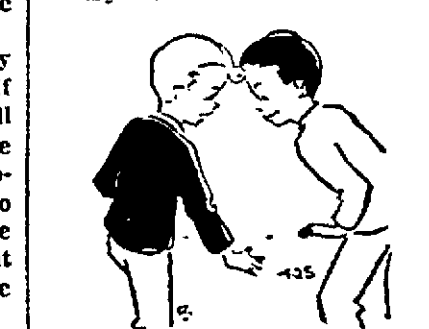

DEAR ANN: On a busy day at the office I neglected to get to the bank and I had to borrow a $5 bill from a co-worker. I'm not in the habit of borrowing, but this was an emergency.

The next morning, I returned the money—but I handed her four single dollar bills and some change. She haughtily told me she wouldn't accept it because I had borrowed a $5 bill and that's exactly what she expected in return. I felt like a big fool. Did I do the wrong thing?—MRS. F. F.W.

If you had given this wom-

George Dauble has been appointed personnel and industrial relations director of Omar Bakeries, Omaha, Neb.

Elwood M. Powell has been appointed general sales promotion manager of Montgomery Ward and company, Chicago.

March sales volume of the McGraw-Edison company, Milwaukee, were higher than in January and February, according to Raymond H. Giesecki, company treasurer and assistant to the president.

The company has a plant in New London.

C. F. Zeckel has been named sales manager of the Mirro-Craft boat sales department of the Mirro-Aluminum company.

He will be responsible for sales of the company's new 16-foot aluminum boat to be manufactured in 1958.

Sales and earnings for the first quarter of 1958 were less than comparative figures for the fourth quarter of 1957 and the first quarter of a year ago.

Nekoosa-Edwards Paper company reports:

Sales totaled $9,644,356, compared to $9,873,055 for the last quarter of 1957 and $10,211,589 for the first quarter last year.

Paper shipments totaled 30,564 tons, compared with 32,967 tons in the last quarter and 31,551 tons for the first quarter of 1957.

Earnings for the first quarter were $565,000, compared with $588,000 in the last quarter of 1957 and $975,000 a year ago.

A quarterly dividend of 20 cents a share on common stock has been declared by Consolidated Freightways, Inc.

North Central Airlines set a new record for operating reliability in March when the airline flew 833,560 of its 839,000 scheduled miles for a performance factor of 99.4 per cent.

This compares with 97.9 per cent for March, 1957.

President Hal N. Carr reported the airline has operated nearly 98 per cent of its scheduled miles for the first quarter of 1958.

Hardware Mutuals Insurance company premiums during 1957 totaled $88,198,497 — highest since the firm's organization in 1904.

President Carl N. Jacobs said in its 54 years of operation the firm has returned $170,598,383 in dividends to policyholders and paid out $414,732,786 in losses.

Kroger company, Cincinnati, reported income after taxes for the 12 weeks ended March 22 of $5,146,045, a 17 per cent increase over the same period last year.

Net income was equal to $1.27 on each of 4,065,404 shares of common stock. This compares with net income of $1.09 a share during the first 12 weeks of 1957.

Foundation Planting Must Fit Home

Shrubs Should Act to Improve Appearance, Not Hide New House

BY GEORGE E. CREED

Foundation planting should be determined by the size and style of your home. If the planting is either too large or too small it will detract from rather than improve the appearance of your property. If it hides your house it defeats its purpose. Furthermore, it should be practical and not make house painting a difficult job.

A few fundamental principles are illustrated in the drawing. Sketch A demonstrates how too much repetition of the same shapes can make a planting look monotonous. Sketch B shows how the same house could be planted with shrubs of different shapes and sizes to make a more interesting and effective composition with the lines of the house. In sketch C the plant materials are used unimaginatively. The effect is monotonous and does little to improve the appearance of the house. Sketch D shows the same house with variations of plant sizes and shapes that fit in well.

Sketch E illustrates an all-too-common use of planting that denies the simplicity of the house itself. Sketch F demonstrates how a simplified planting can complement a low, ranch-style house. Sketch G shows how not to plant if you want to make your house look wider. Sketch H shows how to make it look wider. This principle is also used in Sketches E and B.

Practical considerations in foundation planting should not be overlooked. For instance, the following advice is important:

- Don't plant tall shrubs in front of low windows.
- Don't plant thorny shrubs too close to water faucets.
- Don't train vines directly on wood siding.
- Don't plant tall shrubs in front of cellar windows.
- Don't plant shrubs too close together.
- Don't plant too many shrubs.

FOUNDATION PLANTING MUST FIT HOME

Shrubs Should Act to Improve Appearance, Not Hide New House

BY GEORGE E. CREED

Foundation planting should be determined by the size and style of your home. If the planting is either too large or too small it will detract from rather than improve the appearance of your property. If it hides your house it defeats its purpose. Furthermore, it should be practical and not make house painting a difficult job.

A few fundamental principles are illustrated in the drawing. Sketch A demonstrates how too much repetition of the same shapes can make a planting look monotonous. Sketch B shows how the same house could be planted with shrubs of different shapes and sizes to make a more interesting and effective composition with the lines of the house. In sketch C the plant materials are used unimaginatively. The effect is monotonous and does little to improve the appearance of the house. Sketch D shows the same house with variations of plant sizes and shapes that fit in well.

Sketch E illustrates an all-too-common use of planting that denies the simplicity of the house itself. Sketch F demonstrates how a simplified planting can complement a low, ranch-style house. Sketch G shows how not to plant if you want to make your house look wider. Sketch H shows how to make it look wider. This principle is also used in Sketches E and B.

Practical considerations in foundation planting should not be overlooked. For instance, the following advice is important:

- Don't plant tall shrubs in front of low windows.
- Don't plant thorny shrubs too close to water faucets.
- Don't train vines directly on wood siding.
- Don't plant tall shrubs in front of cellar windows.
- Don't plant shrubs too close together.
- Don't plant too many shrubs.

Wisconsin Truckers Have Alert Safety Programs

Few people in the Fox Cities realize the extent of the safety programs carried on by the Motor Carriers to provide more safety on the highways. Each company carries on its own safety program. The association of Wisconsin has a continuing program. The national level of this organization is constantly on the alert to carrying out of more productive safety programs to help keep YOU safe.

The trucking industry supports the Wisconsin Truckers Safety Council. This council supports several motor carrier company safety patrol cars to assist in bringing down the highway accident toll. They sponsor the "Truck Rodeo", designed to better the driving qualifications of all truck drivers. They are constantly on the lookout for the selection of Wisconsin's Driver of the Month and The Driver of the Year. Plus many other programs of accident-prevention.

Each individual trucking company runs a driver safety program, in order to make sure that every truck that is on the road is safety checked and that each driver is fully qualified. Sharp watch is kept on the number of hours of the driver and that he is not allowed to reach a fatigue point, while under the watchful eye of his company.

The American Trucking Association is sponsoring Sgt. Pike in Wisconsin. Sgt. Pike will start touring Wisconsin in April, visiting the major cities with his safety show. This show is primarily designed to visits within the high schools.

POST CRESCENT News of the TWIN CITIES Neenah - Menasha

Speaker Scores 'Selfish' Labor Union Leaders

AFL-CIO Representative Urges Working to Better Humanity

Menasha — Labor leaders with a desire for only their own personal greed and power and not the betterment of humanity came in for criticism from F. J. Michel, AFL - CIO speakers bureau representative, at the eighth annual labor-management dinner sponsored by the Neenah-Menasha Labor council Thursday night at the Elks club.

"There are not too many of them but they are made too prominent in the daily press and we fail to see the good leaders," he pointed out.

"Too many times we see management as something cold and we see those who abuse their part in management. The same is true for public officials," declaring there are many more good and conscientious ones in management and government who are unnoticed.

"All three, labor, management and government, have good people and each is a necessary part of society. But it depends on the individual how he will serve society."

Betterment of Humanity

Michel, who lives at Fond du Lac and has been active in labor unions for over 25 years, declared that labor has a long history of doing good for all the people and continually working for the betterment of humanity. That is labor's purpose, he stressed.

He then contrasted the many good leaders in labor unions following that principle with the few who seek only their own "personal greed and power" and who get most of the public notice.

Michel stated that he had found in bargaining negotiations and working with governmental officials that most people were honest in their intentions, trying to find an answer to some problem, "even though we differed in our opinions."

Two things that will have an impact on our society, the effect of which we do not know, are automation and atomic power, he continued. He cited various examples of automation, such as in the making of automobiles and concrete and the uses of electronic brains in offices.

Both labor and management will be affected by those two factors, Michel cited. "Labor does not intend to stop any progress and you can't stop progress," he emphasized.

He called for application of Christian teachings and principles into labor and management. "Each one of us was born by the grace of God with certain abilities, some to rise higher. A high station means only more responsibility" to those at a lower station.

Electronic Posting Machine Delivered To Bank of Menasha

Menasha — A new electronic posting machine, one of the first to be installed in the Fox Cities, has been delivered to the bank of Menasha to handle checking account bookkeeping.

"The electronic posting machine will greatly increase the operating efficiency of our bank and provide more satisfactory service to our customers," H. C. Kosloske, bank president, said today.

Beside relieving the drudgery from a day's work, the new equipment will produce the bank's and customers' records with an unprecedented degree of accuracy and speed, he added. Even though the machine will operate with the speed of electronics, the bank will have the advantages of standard printed records.

The new machine makes it possible to achieve accuracy in a fraction of the time formerly needed because of the duplication of efforts is reduced. Errors are also minimized by the machine.

Receiving awards were James Boegh, Robert Eder, Marvin Van De Hey, Randy Walbrun, David Arndt, Joseph Mueller, Larry Johnson, Daniel Hoks and James Keller.

8th Annual Labor-Management Dinner Draws Record Crowd of 400

Menasha — More than 400 persons turned out for the eighth annual dinner the labor unions gave for management at the Elks club here Thursday night with the unions paying for the meals of their "bosses."

They heard Robert E. O'Connor, executive secretary of the American Paper and Pulp association, who was management's speaker at the dinner, suggest that management should write into its future bargaining contracts an insistence that labor continue to provide these dinners.

Lauds Paper Industry

You can't departmentalize into separate divisions labor on one side and management on the other because there is a gray area between them in which each partakes in a small or larger degree something of the nature of the other's operation, he offered.

Winnebagoland Now Twin City Rambler Dealer

Neenah — Winnebagoland Motors is now the Twin City Rambler dealer.

The company received its franchise Thursday afternoon from R. L. Tuckwell, zone manager of American Motors sales, Milwaukee. Leroy E. Heimerman, sales manager of the local dealership, said two 1958 Ramblers are expected to be in the showrooms sometime today and four more by late Saturday.

A complete parts department for all American Motors autos is to be installed by the middle of next week Heimerman said. The present showroom and service facilities at 211 N. Commercial street will be used.

Wheeler Firm Drivers Set Safety Record

Million Miles Without Accident Marked by Company

Menasha — Road drivers of the Wheeler division of Consolidated Freightways, Inc., have driven 1,000,546 miles without an accident as of Thursday, company officials announced.

In accomplishing their feat, the drivers have operated since Nov. 20, 1957, or 154 days, without a mishap. The record was attained on extremely congested highways between Green Bay, Menasha, Stevens Point, Wausau, Madison and Milwaukee in Wisconsin and the Minneapolis-St. Paul, Minn., area.

Wheeler Transportation has operated in Wisconsin for over 90 years. In 1957 it became an operating division of Consolidated Freightways, Inc., Eastern division. Wheeler is the first Eastern region division to reach the one million mark.

W. J. Hahn is general manager of the Wheeler division which has its office and terminal on Highway 41 in the town of Menasha.

Local Wheeler transport operators, who participated in making the exclusive "One Million Mile club" are Reinhardt O. Alfertig, Edward E. DeBraal, Charles M. D. E. by, Ralph D. Gulbrandsen, Lawrence C. Heroux, Earl O. Lankford, William J. Malenofski, John Schmit, August M. Smith, Henry A. Plath and John G. Williams.

Retarded Children to Have Park Recreation Program This Summer

Local Clubs Give Over $500 for Youth Activities

Menasha — Plans are complete for the first Twin City summer recreation program for retarded children.

Local service and civic organizations have donated more than $500 for the program, which will run for six weeks starting June 17.

So far 18 youngsters have been registered, according to Mrs. F. J. Liebl, president of the Neenah - Menasha Association for Retarded Children. At the present time there are provisions for 20 youngsters in the program, but if more apply they will be accepted, Mrs. Liebl said.

The recreation program will be supervised by Mrs. John Hanchett, who also teaches the special class for these children during the school months. Three paid assistants will be hired in mid-May.

Seek Applicants Applications for these assistants' jobs are now being accepted at the Neenah and Menasha recreation offices. Persons in high school or college with some group leading experience are being sought. Applicants must be 16 or older.

Several persons also have volunteered to help with the program, Mrs. Liebl said, and will be called upon in emergencies.

The youngsters will meet at Smith park from 9:30 to 11:30 on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday mornings from June 17 to July 24. In case of rain the program will be held in the Menasha Memorial building.

Musical games and handicraft projects will be the principal features of the recreation program, although the group hopes to set up special swimming programs and bus trips to nearby places of interest part of the time.

All Funds Donated The program is offered without cost to the parents of the youngsters enrolled.

Money for the program was donated by the Menasha Rotary club, Menasha Kiwanis, Neenah Rotary, Neenah Kiwanis, Neenah Lions Club, Neenah - Menasha Optimist club, King's Daughters Welfare club and United States Army Advisory group. Any surplus funds at the end of the summer will be used to provide a winter recreation program for older retarded persons.

The local association is now seeking donations to carry on its regular program, the greatest portion of which includes the retarded children's classes at the Menasha Congregational church.

Seven Building Permits Issued, Five for Garages

Menasha — Seven building permits amounting to only $3,500 in construction were issued this week by H. O. Haugh, Menasha building inspector.

Five of the permits were for garages. William Zeininger, 223 Ahnapp street, was authorized to install a rear porch at an estimated cost of $100 and F. W. Leuenberger, 728 Jefferson street, will remodel and enclose his porch for $500.

Garage permits were given to Delbert Schantz, 632 Tayco street, 16 by 22 feet, $200; Lawrence Berens, 912 Lincoln street, 16 by 22 feet, $600; Warren Loper, 721 Grove street, 22 by 22 feet, $800; Harry Tietz, 427 Third street, 20 by 22 feet, $800, and George Liebhauser, 216 W. Fourth street, 15 by 22 feet, $600.

To Honor Spring Road Grade School Quintet

Neenah — The Spring Road grade school basketball team will be honored at a dinner at 6 o'clock next Wednesday evening at John's Poinsettia.

Parents of the players and cheerleaders also will attend. Tom Porter, Neenah High school football and track coach and recently named head coach at St. Olaf college, is expected to be the main speaker.

Mrs. Lee Brux is in charge. She will be assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Ed Huebner and Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Allen.

Team Seeks Games

Menasha — A softball team has been organized under the Rollarena banner and is seeking games with area teams, according to Manager Dick Clark. The team is scheduled to open its season tonight at Jefferson park against Ban-Lawrence. The five, plus victories in the final four games played from Neenah, Menasha and Appleton, according string of nine successive triumphs.

ter might be partly responsible for that harmony.

The Paper and Pulp association executive secretary then turned to view the "so called recession," as he put it, citing figures from a national city bank of New York economist to the effect that 7.6 per cent of the employable force was unemployed in 1950, 5.8 per cent in 1954 and 7.7 per cent this year.

There is a squeeze on the profit margins but he looked for an increase in both wholesale and retail commodity prices. The profits of the pulp and paper industry declined some 16 per cent last year, according to O'Connor. There has been a period of great expansion in the industry and now a period of temporary overcapacity.

The long range picture holds promise for correction but some difficulty will ensue, he felt. "By alert, intelligent concern by management to the factual realities of our economy, there is no need for the current recession to assume the proportions of the 1930 depression."

"Can Abate Serious Aspects?" "We think we can abate most of its serious aspects. The pulp and paper industry is the third largest in Wisconsin and Wisconsin's pulp and paper industry is the largest in the nation, as to taxes paid, production-wise and the employment of 40,000 persons."

O'Connor commended the industry's emphasis on continuing the growth development of the wood resources to ensure a good supply, its research to abate stream pollution and its showing an awareness of its public responsibilities.

Edward A. Zeininger, international representative of the brotherhood of pulp, sulphite and paper mill workers, served as toastmaster and Claude Cash, president of the Neenah-Menasha labor council, sponsors of the dinner, welcomed the guests. Entertainment was by Bob Neller and his dummy, Reggie, and the Les Smith trio.

Postpone Zephyrs Game at Brillion

Menasha — Thursday's baseball game between St. Mary and Brillion was called off because of wet grounds. No date for a makeup has been decided.

The Zephyrs will make their next start at home Monday afternoon against Little Chute St. John. The game had originally been scheduled for next Tuesday.

Titans Bid for Third, Fourth Loop Triumphs

Oshkosh — Coach Eric Kitzman's Oshkosh State college nine bids for its third and fourth victories in the Wisconsin State college conference in a doubleheader against White-Rollarena banner and is seeking games with area teams, according to Manager Dick Clark. The team is scheduled to open its season tonight at Jefferson park against Ban-Lawrence. The five, plus victories in the final four games played from Neenah, Menasha and Appleton, according string of nine successive triumphs.

Rockets Travel to Shawano; Hosts to Have Veteran Club

Neenah — Neenah will open defense of its Mid-Eastern conference baseball crown Saturday afternoon at Shawano, weather permitting, of course. The Rockets, who in three non-league games this spring have a win and two setbacks, have won the league crown the last two seasons. They won seven straight games in 1956 and last year finished with a 6-1 record. The lone loss was to Kaukauna.

Shawano enters the game with a roster of 11 lettermen, most of whom saw action against the Rockets here last spring when Neenah registered a 6-1 win to clinch the league championship.

Idle Since Saturday The Rockets have had the whole week to prepare for their league opener since they last saw action last Saturday. Hitting has been the Rockets' weak point in their initial three games and they have only 11 hits to show for those outings. At the same time, their pitchers have limited the opponents to 13 safeties.

Gene Gries, who blanked Algom on two hits in the six innings in which he worked, is expected to start for the Rockets. In nine frames this spring he hasn't allowed an earned run. Marv Carlson, Don Benowski and Tom Syring are the other hurlers on the staff.

Neenah Lineup Jerry Marohl, Shawano's top hurler last year, or Norm Ostepanski, the 6-5 cage star, probably will toe the slab for the Indians.

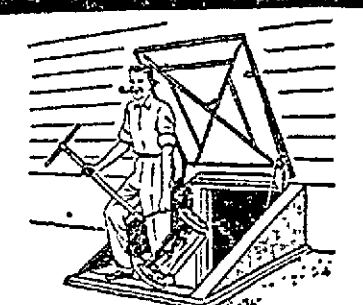

If Gries starts, the rest of the lineup is expected to include Jerry Moder behind the plate, Tom Kelly, first base; Dave Heller or Dan Began, second base; Carlson, shortstop; Dave Thomsen, third base, and Kent Simerson, Syring and Bemowski in the outfield. If Carlson starts, freshman George Goetz or Began probably will be at shortstop and Gries at first base.

Shawano Starters Likely starters for the Indians are Harley Lyons, behind the bat; Jerry Surber, first base; Dick Dittman, second base; John Cantwell, shortstop; Hal Boyd or Wally Knope, third base, and Dick Frechette, Ren Ketchenago and Loren Rouse or Jerry Olson in the outfield.

The Rockets scored four runs in the last of the sixth inning to nail down their 6-1 win last May 28. Marohl walked six hitters in the sixth. Gene Gries was the winning pitcher.

Authorize 5 Homes, New Neenah Fire Station

11 Projects Worth $117,970; Dwellings To Cost $66,000

Neenah — Permits for five new homes, a new fire station, two remodeling jobs, two additions and a garage, with a total estimated cost of $117,970, were issued this week by the city building inspector, Carlton F. Williams.

The new homes alone will cost about $66,000. The basic cost of the new southwest side fire substation is estimated at $45,470.

New homes will be built side by side on Hawthorne street by David Mather and Werner Leopold. Mather's home is to be a 2-story frame structure measuring 3 by 50 feet, with a garage attached.

Leopold's dwelling is to measure 33 by 44 feet and stand one and two stories high. A 20 by 22 foot garage and 4 by 24 foot projection are to be attached. Both homes have estimated costs of $16,000.

A $15,000 home is planned by Home Lumber and Millwork for an Oak street lot. This will be a 1 by 22 foot frame garage measuring 51 by 29 feet and stand one and two stories high.

A single story frame dwelling is to be erected on Maple street by Martin Henke. The home, measuring 28 by 40 feet, is to cost about $10,000.

The fifth home is a $9,000 house, to be built on Maple street by S. A. Sommer. The single story frame dwelling will measure 30 by 28 feet.

Fire Substation The building permit for the new fire substation was issued to the city. The $45,470 estimated cost will cover the general construction, which is being done by William Tiede and Sons, Appleton, but the heating, plumbing, wiring and equipping of the new station will bring the total to approximately double this figure.

The station, of masonry construction, will measure 55 by 79 feet overall and include living and office space as well as the fire truck garage. It is to be built at Harrison and W. Cecil streets.

A $2,800 family room addition is being planned by Bob Rogers, 602 Quarry lane. The room will measure 15 by 20 1/2 feet.

A $750 rear porch, to measure 10 by 14 feet, will be constructed by Erhardt Badtke, 741 Oak street.

A remodeling permit allowing Herbert Nielsen, 626 Congress street, to alter the partitions in his house and remake the front porch into a vestibule was issued. The estimated cost of this job is $1,500.

Another remodeling permit was issued to Francis Brandherm, 808 S. Park avenue, who will enclose his 15 by 15 foot rear porch at a cost of about $650.

The only garage permit issued went to James Creavin, 322 Sixth street, who will build a 1 by 22 foot frame garage at a cost of approximately $800.

MHS to Meet Raiders in M-E Opener

Menasha — Menasha, which on the basis of early season play, should have its best Mid-Eastern conference baseball season since 1955 when it tied for the title, will open its league slate at home Saturday afternoon against Two Rivers. Game time will be 2 o'clock at the city ball park.

The Bluejays had a 2-5 conference record a year ago while Two Rivers posted 5-2 for second place behind champion Neenah.

Menasha goes into the contest with a spring state of five straight wins while Two Rivers has two losses and a tie.

Question Eligibility

Whether the Raiders' Ron Brault will be allowed to play or not still isn't known. Brault hurled in the Fox River Valley league last May 25 and June 2 before his school term was completed which is believed to make him ineligible.

However, no ruling has been made yet and he has seen action in the three non-league games. Brault pitched a 1-hitter in losing 1-0 to Sheboygan Central and worked 14 2-3 frames in a 15-inning loss to Sheboygan North.

In their most recent start Wednesday afternoon, the Raiders played to a 4-all tie with Manitowoc. The game was called at the end of six innings because of rain. Wayne Markusen pitched the first five innings and Brault hurled the sixth.

The Two Rivers lineup includes sophomore Tom Lawrence at third base; Jerry Messman, shortstop; "Chuck" Pries, second base, and Brault or Markusen, first base, with Jim Levenetz, catching, and Fred Abbot, Lee Nebel and Jim Beth in the outfield.

Raiders Cop

Since Ken Konetzke hurled Thursday's game at Hortonville, lefty Gordy Selbach is expected to be on the mound for the Jays. Selbach has a 2-0 record to 3-0 for Konetzke.

Two Rivers defeated the Jays 7-2 in last year's meeting, scoring five runs in the last two innings. Markusen limited the Menashans to four hits. Tom Konetzke and Jack Zolkowski, who were the only two seniors on the team, hurled for Menasha.

Neenah Tennis Squad Clashes With Raiders

Rockets Seek 5th Straight Win at Expense of 'Tosa

Neenah — State champion Neenah will meet its toughest tennis foe of the young spring Saturday morning when it journeys to the Milwaukee area to duel Wauwatosa.

The Rockets boast a chain of four straight triumphs over New London, Fond du Lac, Appleton and Sheboygan Central. Wauwatosa isn't as strong as in recent years but still is expected to be a formidable foe.

Neenah again will be without Ed Meyer, who hasn't been able to play because of a hand infection. Since he is the No. 1 man, it will mean that all of the other netters again will have to move up a notch. It is in these matches with the Milwaukee-suburban schools that depth is important because nine points, six for singles and three in doubles, make up a match.

Lose To Manty

In its only match with an area school this spring, 'Tosa was defeated 6-3 by a strong Manitowoc team.

Likely singles starters for the Raiders are Hartfield, Easton, Ricciardi, Jensen, Small and Krohn in singles and Krohn-Hall, Hartfield-Ricciardi and Pollnow-Jensen in doubles.

Neenah is expected to use Dick Wilson, Dave Reiersen, Jack Anderson, Dale Mrotek, Judd Koehn and Paul Valente or Steve Price in singles with Ankerson-Wilson as one doubles and Reiersen-Mrotek, Reiersen-Koehn or Mrotek-Price in the others.

Last year, the Rockets blanked the 'Tosans 9-0, reversing a loss by the same score the preceding season. Returning 'Tosa players are Hartfield, who lost to Meyer and Pollnow, loser to Don Angell.

Shortstop Hits Homer In 3rd Inning

Menasha — A bases empty home run by Dave Robinson in the third inning provided the only scoring as Menasha recorded a tight 1-0 win over Hortonville Thursday afternoon.

Because the Menasha diamond was too muddy, the game was played at Hortonville. For Menasha, it was its fifth straight non-league win of the spring and its second shut-out.

Robinson, who bats ninth in the order, clouted the ball out of the lot in the third inning with one out. Although they threatened several times, the Polar Bears couldn't punch home a run.

Both Ken Konetzke of the Jays and Jim Steffen of Hortonville pitched fine games. Each allowed three hits. Konetzke walked three and struck out seven while Steffen had four strikeouts and no walks.

Runners Stranded

The Polar Bears put two men on the sacks on walks in the first inning, got runners to second in the fourth and fifth, one to third in the sixth and with two out in the seventh, Joe Steffen reached third on a walk and an error but was stranded there.

In addition to Robinson's homer, Menasha's other hits were made by Tom Rempel and Jerry Koslowski. Rempel singled in the same frame as Robinson belted his homer. Jim Steffen, Dennis Sommers and Conrad had the three Hortonville safeties.

The win avenged a pair of losses to the Polar Bears last year when the latter posted a 19-4 early season win and capped 3-1 in sectional tournament play.

Page Elected President of Dartball Loop

Neenah — Bill Page was elected president of the Neenah Municipal Dartball league at the business meeting held in connection with the dinner and awards night at the Recreation building Thursday night.

Al Dieckhoff was named vice, president and "Bud" Schuelke, secretary-treasurer. Bill Coenen and Erv Schuelke were elected directors.

The dartballers voted to combine the men's and women's divisions into one league. In the past, although teams in the two sections played each other, separate standings were kept, separate awards made and the sections had their own slate of officers.

They voted to hold next year's practice night on Oct. 2, with the league play to start Oct. 9.

The men's trophy donated by Al Woelckner and the women's trophy, which was donated by Art Niles, will still be presented to the men's and women's teams with the best records.

Neenah Youth Bows

Prairie du Chien — Bob Wickham of Neenah was defeated 6-8, 6-3, 6-3 by Dick Baker as Campion High school bowed to LaCrosse Central 5-1 in a tennis match here Thursday. Wickham and Bill Tordella lost to Dennis Kennedy and Dick Hayes 7-5 in a doubles match.

Twelve University of Wisconsin Menasha Extension cagers were awarded letters during an annual basketball dinner at the Menasha hotel Thursday night. Guest speaker was Harold "Bud" Foster, University of Wisconsin basketball coach, shown above on the right talking to David Van Wyck, left, student who served as master of ceremonies, and Verne Imhoff, director of the Menasha extension. The team finished with an 11-3 record. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Eyes of University on Menasha Extension, Foster Tells Cagers

Menasha — "We feel you young people attending the Menasha Extension center are very much a part of us at Madison," Harold "Bud" Foster, University of Wisconsin basketball coach, stated at the extension's annual basketball dinner at the Menasha Hotel Thursday night.

Foster congratulated the cagers for having a fine season and maintained he kept up on the team's progress during the season. About 100 persons attended the banquet.

"The university has done a great thing in setting up extension centers throughout the state. By doing so, many young people are afforded an opportunity to receive an education," the guest speaker pointed out.

Switching to his own team, the long-time coach, stated the picture looks brighter for next year with a lot of experienced players returning. Foster felt the university squad would give a good account of itself in the coming season even though it has a tough schedule.

Recruiting Now

"We're involved in recruiting now and our main job is to find a skyscraper as everyone else seems to have. We do have a 6-foot, 7-inch freshman who should help us in the height department next year," Foster said.

He pointed out there were a number of outstanding basketball players in Wisconsin high schools this year but none of them were over 6-foot, 5-inches tall.

We had a very fine prospect in a Philadelphia boy but found out he wasn't admissible to the university because of his grades. He ranked in the lower part of his graduating class," Foster said.

"Thirteen intercollegiate sports with about 600 boys participating were sponsored by the university this year and

Menasha Gains 8-1 Tennis Win Over 'Bay' Club

Bluejays Cop Six Singles Matches In Besting Cadets

Menasha — Scoring wins in all six singles matches and two doubles, Menasha recorded an 8-1 tennis win over Green Bay Premontre here Thursday afternoon. The victory was the fourth straight for the Jays.

Only one of the six singles matches went three sets but the Jays had to go into extra games to win four other sets.

Sophomore Jim Stenson, playing at No. 1, bested Jim Cibula of the Bays 6-3, 9-7 and Jim Cronin won the No. 2 match with a 9-7, 6-0 triumph over Mike Lison.

Other Singles Wins

At No. 3, Bob Hodkiewicz won over Richard Peplinski 6-1, 7-5 and Nick Farrell won the fourth match with a 6-1, 6-2 triumph over Wayne Shepardson.

In other singles matches, Tom Krysiak turned back Gary Kroner 4-6, 6-4, 6-3 and Fred Hollenbeck won over Jerry Mostek 6-1, 9-7.

Stenson-Cronin bested Cibula and Lison 6-1, 6-2 and Hodkiewicz-Krysiak won over Mostek-Peplinski 6-2, 6-1 for the Jays' two doubles wins. Kroner-Shepardson gave Premontre its point with a 6-3, 6-4 triumph over Farrell and Hollenbeck.

Exhibitions

In exhibition matches, a 11 won by Menasha, Bill Ritchie trimmed Tom Biebel 6-4, 6-2; Don Rempel won over Mike Mulroy 6-3, 6-3; Dan Arft topped Pat Kindlin 7-5, 6-0, and Ritchie - Arft bested Mulroy Kindlin 6-4, 6-1.

The Jays go after their fifth straight win Saturday morning at Sheboygan against Central High school.

Central lost to Neenah 6-1 last Tuesday in its only match against a Twin City team.

Post-6-1 Win

Last year the Menashans took a 6-1 triumph over their Chair city opponent and the Central lineup which met the Jays returns in tact.

Menasha winners were Jim Cronin over Wally Trester, Dick Lang over Mike Klistner, Bob Adams over Mark Luebner and Jim Stenson over John Mayer in singles and Adams-Stenson and Lang-Cronin in doubles. Bob McDonald gave Central its lone win with a three set triumph over Bob Hodkiewicz.

The Valley league champions will drill at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Sixth street diamond and play an intrasquad game at the same time Sunday afternoon at the ball park. The Menashans have had

Crashes Games of 245-235; Mulvey Bowls 234 Single

Menasha — Lee Burdick jolted a 245 game and 653 series for a sweep of honors in the Valley Men's Bowling Thursday night at Menasha Recreation. He also bowled a 235 line.

Two other bowlers had a pair of 200-plus games. Larry Mulvey whacked 234-223 efforts and Bob Currie rolled 206 and 201.

Other leading singletons included Ken Hale 235, Hank Malchow 234, Charles Munsche 216, Werner Jonscher 215, John Christensen and Cecil Taplin 212, Dan Schmidt 207, Don Quinn and Ray Horkman 203 and "Bud" Peters 201.

Prison Chaplain Explains Duties At Church Meeting

Neenah — Life behind the walls of Waupun State prison was described at the Thursday evening meeting of the LAF club of the First Presbyterian church by the Rev. Samuel Beers, Protestant chaplain at the institution.

The Rev. Mr. Beers, a former Methodist minister who was educated in both Congregational and Methodist seminaries, said that prisons are now considered places in which to change people and not punish them. "And that is why there are chaplains," he explained "because religion has the power to change people."

"We hold church services because they give prisoners a normal experience," he added. "And at Waupun the men have to climb five flights of stairs, so they must really want to attend church."

"One of our biggest jobs is to emphasize the nature of God's forgiveness," he continued, "since a former Sing Sing psychiatrist theorized that over 60 per cent of all criminals commit crimes as a form of self-punishment." The speaker added that many men enter prison with a sense of relief that they are finally receiving their just punishment.

Hold Classes

Religious education, including classes in ethics and moral principles, are held to solve the problems of living a Christian life inside prison. The chaplain described a very intelligent prisoner with a record for virtually every possible crime and vice who came to him and asked what makes a thing right or wrong.

"The church must develop standards of morals," he explained. "We try to distribute church literature to about 413 men, who have nothing to do but read."

The Rev. Mr. Beers attempts to establish relationships of trust by personally interviewing each prisoner when he enters Waupun. "We try to help the men through their crises," he said, "and to build basic personal relationships."

Rejection by parents and family and the feeling of being nobody are the two major factors in crime described by the chaplain. "It is the church's duty to help these people before they resort to crime," he added. "At Waupun we try to alter those feelings by trust and understanding."

Explain Jobs

The prison's problem of keeping over 1,500 inmates occupied was described by the speaker. Prison — produced items can be sold only to institutions and non-commercial markets and the prison population rises as unemployment increases. Since the Waupun state prison is a maximum security institution, inmates are locked in their cells at 5 o'clock in the afternoon and all activities and jobs can be pursued only in the morning and afternoon.

"Prisoners have to be kept busy," the chaplain explained "as idleness is usually the cause of riots."

The Rev. Mr. Beers has spent eight years at the prison and previously was active in church youth work and rural congregations.

Lodge Will Honor Wives At Dinner

Erwin Jensen, 205 Meadow lane, Neenah, $12,000 home and garage, 26 by 66 feet, in Oak Crest Mews in town of Clayton.

Other permits issued included one to John R. Zarowski, 123 Third street, Menasha, to move a 24 by 24 foot house and a 22 by 22 foot detached garage onto premises on Gruenwald avenue in town of Menasha at a cost of $6,500.

criminal offense and there will be no prosecution. He was released to his parents.

Condron said the youngster did not know the baby had died. "He asked how the baby was while we were talking," the chief related. "I told him, 'oh, all right.'"

His parents will consult a psychiatrist before deciding whether to tell the youngster of the tot's death, Condron said.

The police chief said investigators suspected the boy almost from the start. They questioned him and a brother, 7.

After his admission to Condron, the boy went home with his father. The father took him back to police Thursday and Condron said the parents likewise are convinced the recital was true.

"The police are satisfied and the case is closed," Condron said.

Mrs. Carrick told officers she was outside about 15 minutes and heard the baby cry out two or three minutes before she re-entered the house to find the infant gone.

Members will begin sewing projects for the Winnebago county home, among them lap robes and wheel chair covers.

Meeting at 7 o'clock Monday evening at the First Methodist church will be the executive committee of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Members of the Missionary circle of Trinity Lutheran church of Menasha met Wednesday afternoon at the church and began sewing articles for the fall bazaar. Mrs. Howard Wendland was appointed chairman of the May 17 rummage sale and delegates to the Fox River Valley meeting of missionary societies at Oshkosh May 14 were named.

Club Has Election

Neenah — Mrs. Lloyd Clouse was elected secretary and Mrs. Robert Wischow, treasurer at the Thursday evening meeting of the Merry Mixers Home-maker club at the home of Mrs. Ackard Schwerin, 747 Madison street.

Continuing in office are Mrs. John Cumings, president, and Mrs. Joseph Erdmann, vice president. A hobby sale followed the business session. A potluck supper was planned for the May 22 meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry Malchow, route 1, Neenah.

A trip to Green Bay will be held in June.

Terror Net Team Wins

Takes 6 to 1 Decision From New London

The Appleton High school tennis team won its first match in three starts by downing New London, 6-1, here Thursday afternoon.

The Bulldog combine of Gerald Eggert and Robert Elsholtz scored their team's only win by stopping Fred Jungers and John Zimmerman, 6-4, 3-6, 6-4, in the No. 1 doubles.

The Terror victors were "Chuck" Riley (over Eggert, 6-0, 6-4); Jungers (over Elsholtz, 6-3, 8-6); Zimmerman (over Ted Miller, 6-1, 6-2); Marty Semmelhack (over Gerald Dexter, 6-0, 6-3); and Lee Ruth (over Iver Rudie, 6-0, 6-2); and the Riley-Semmelhack duo (over Miller-Dexter, 6-1, 9-7).

In exhibition singles, AHS' Tom Jacobs beat Tony Budwit, 6-4, 6-2; and New London's John Romberg beat Tom Lemke, 6-0, 4-6, 7-5. In exhibition doubles, Ruth and Jacobs beat Rudie and Budwit, 6-4, 6-1.

Kimberly will invade the AHS courts Monday.

Eastern Pro Stars Beat West, 130-117

San Jose, Calif. — The Eastern National Basketball association All-Stars defeated the West, 130-117, Thursday night before 2,500 fans.

Bill Sharman hit 29 points, and Kenny Sears 20. Leading the West was Cliff Hagan, St. Louis Hawks, with 20.

NL President Salutes Return of Baseball to Fox Cities, Stresses Community Values of the Game

"As the game of baseball is played, so will the life of America be lived."

With these words, National League President Warren Giles Thursday night expressed his regard for the national pastime and his delight at seeing it return, on a professional scale, to the Fox Cities.

"I'm just a minor leaguer at heart," Giles told a "Welcome Foxes" banquet audience in the Appleton Elks club. "I enjoy sharing the enthusiasm you show. Unfortunately, we don't have that in the majors—we're inclined to be a little stuffy."

Giles said that the kind of time, energy and money that's put into baseball at the grassroots level makes him feel good about being in the game.

Has Special Interest

He congratulated the Fox Cities on their first season of 3-1 league play and pointed out that he has a special interest in the team since his brother-in-law and sister (Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Miedke) live in Neenah.

"I own a share of stock," Giles revealed.

Through baseball has great emotional and entertainment values, it offers more than that to a community, Giles pointed out. It gives the community a focal point of interest, he said.

"Baseball offers a common ground for common thought," the National League's chief executive explained, "they'll all be talking the same language about the same thing. The baseball park is a place where people from all walks of life interact with each other."

With baseball of a higher plane coming in, it should provide even greater interest than before, he indicated. Just as the big difference between the majors and the higher minors is that there are more experts in the former, so there are more experts in class 'B' ball than 'D,' Giles added.

Common Problems

Minor leagues are just as important in the baseball structure as the majors, Giles asserted. "We can't exist without you folks," he added.

Giles related that he's been active in both minor and major league baseball for 25 years.

Meet Your Foxes

No Interpreter Needed When 'Sandy's' in Box

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Cuba's Hilario Valdespino sometimes needs an interpreter (Foxes teammate Bob Tano) to express an idea in English.

But, once he's up at the plate, Valdespino has no trouble communicating with the opposing pitcher—and very often it adds up to bad news for the latter.

Valdespino is the latest baseball proof that dynamite can come in small containers. The 5-foot-7, 150-pounder was a revelation to Fox Cities Manager Pete Suder with his power during spring camp games.

Shows High Promise

"Sandy"—as Valdespino likes to be called—showed high promise in 1957, his first year in organized ball. He batted in 62 runs in 94 games for Midland-Lamesa of the Class B, this far north, and he likes it Southwest league, while hitting fine. Not even the cool weather, 295 and socking 11 homers, that has prevailed in the three Valdespino, who wears an all-day smile except able to cloud his sunny disposition when he has serious business in mind.

The batter's box, says he hopes to keep improving his hitting this year and eventually would like to play with the parent Washington club. He likes the way the Senators' Roy Sievers hits. He couldn't find a much better model than that.

The speedy little flyhawk played all three outfield positions at various times last year but says he prefers center. "Sandy" will get his wish, for that's where Suder has him pegged for this season.

Valdespino was born in San Jose, Cuba, but Havana is now his home.

Only 19 years old, Valdespino started playing amateur ball in organized ball when he was 13.

Foxes Receive Enthusiastic Reception at 1st Banquet

Suder Says He Has Good Ball Club

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

The Fox Cities welcomed the baseball Foxes with open arms Thursday night.

If the enthusiasm shown by nearly 300 fans, officials and players at the first big local baseball banquet in five years is anywhere near a reflection of the sentiment of the entire Fox Cities populace, organized baseball can't help but make a successful comeback.

Helping to give local-level Class B baseball a muscular send-off along the road to success last night were such men of prestige as Warren Giles, National league president; Hal Totten, 3-1 league president; and Pete Suder, former major league player and first manager of the Fox Cities Foxes.

2 Standing Ovations

For his personal interest in the new project, Giles received a standing ovation both before and after his talk—as sincere and vigorous a reception as anyone has received in the Appleton Elks club banquet room for years.

Suder, after introducing the players who will be carrying the Fox Cities colors in the 130-game 3-1 league baseball derby, said "We like the people here, and we hope when the season gets under way you'll like us."

Club President Ray McClone observed, "If the players' conduct has any bearing to their ability on the field, we should have a fine season."

Suder, who also received a noisy welcome, said "I'd be foolish to say where we might finish in this league, but we have a good ball club—2 to 1 better than my last year's club."

McClone thanked his fellow directors for the work they have done and commended Appleton city officials for their cooperation in getting Goodland field in shape. Like some of the other speakers, McClone underscored the difference in quality between "B" ball and "D," the brand this area once had.

He also said the club has tried to keep ticket prices down within reach of everyone who wants to see games.

Among the guests introduced from the floor by Master of Ceremonies Bob Lloyd were three heads of municipal government—Mayor Clarence Mitchell of Appleton, Mayor Joseph Bayorgeon, of Kaukauna; and Village President Paul Kostka, of Little Chute; and ball club officers and directors.

McClone paid tribute to his predecessor as club president, Judge Andrew Parnell. The assemblage responded with a big round of applause for Parnell, who has done so much in the past on behalf of organized ball and who continues to serve on the board of directors today.

The first ball hasn't been thrown out yet—that will come in eight days at Goodland field. But, in every other way—youthsters collecting players' autographs, oldsters spinning baseball yarns, and banquet-goers expressing optimism about the new venture—professional baseball returned last night.

Loop President Says Fox Cities Fans Will See Good Baseball

"You'll see good baseball here," Hal Totten, president of the 3-1 league, promised fans in attendance at Thursday night's "Welcome Foxes" banquet.

The effervescent executive said that after talking to a number of baseball men he's come to the conclusion that the Fox Cities club will field an awfully good ball club in its first season in Class B ball.

"Class B is the level of ball where they separate the men from the boys," explained Totten.

'Solid' League

Totten stressed that he is glad the league has two clubs (Fox Cities and Green Bay) in "one of the most wonderful areas of a wonderful state." Totten declared, "We have a solid league now."

He revealed that two major league (American league) clubs said the 3-1 "couldn't make it this year, with a 50 per cent change-over, especially if I was going to have to expand in this direction." He called the late Len Reis of Green Bay the key man in the eventual transactions.

Totten indicated that he admires the progress both the Fox Cities and Green Bay have made since they had to start from "scratch."

"I know," said the president, "that they'll be among the leaders in attendance, and they're not asking anything from anybody."

The speaker lauded the job Business Manager Bob Willis has done in his initial experience in the position and said, "I've never seen a board of directors function like this one."

Totten emphasized that his league is not asking favors from anyone. As an aside to National League President Warren Giles, a friend of his for years, he said "Anything your league does to help will be welcomed but we're standing on our own two feet."

Braves Defeat Cincy, Return Home Tonight

Aaron Homers Twice to Help Spahn Win, 6-2

Cincinnati — M a n a g e r "Birdie" Tebbetts is going to have to wait awhile for those three decisions his Cincinnati Redlegs need to match their 1957 total against the Milwaukee Braves.

The Braves earned a split in their 2-game series here Thursday night with a 6-2 verdict and then headed back to Milwaukee for a night game with the Philadelphia Phils at County stadium tonight.

Henry Aaron helped Warren Spahn post his second victory of the campaign and forty-sixth of his career over the Redlegs with a pair of solo home runs.

Has Perfect Evening

They were Aaron's third and fourth round trippers this season and upped the Braves' total production to 12. Of the Braves' 31 runs scored so far, 22 have been the direct result of homers. Henry also chipped in with a single and two walks in five trips for a perfect evening that also saw the Braves climb into third place.

The night before when Bob Purkey shut out the world champions, 2-0, Tebbetts was moved to say, "We only need to win three more from Milwaukee and we've done as well as we did last year."

"After that, it's all gravy," he added. Tebbetts, of course, was referring to the fact that of the 22 games played between the two clubs last year, his once-fearsome crew won only four.

Spahn made sure Tebbetts and company will have to wait to add another notch. He was in command of the situation except for a brief spell of wildness in the first inning and the seventh when the Redlegs scored both of their runs.

Lawrence Plays Host to 4-Way Track Meet

Ripon, Oshkosh and Stevens Point Will Be Here Saturday

Track teams representing Ripon, Oshkosh and Stevens Point will join Lawrence's Vikings here at 1:30 Saturday afternoon for a quadrangular meet.

Except for the Midwest conference meet—which will also be held at Whiting field—Saturday's test shapes up as Lawrence's top home attraction of the season.

Ripon Has 2 Wins

Ripon, a little short on quantity but mighty long on quality, rates as the team to beat—unless Bob Osiewalski's leg injury keeps him from competing. Ripon has already won a triangular from Northern Michigan and Whitewater, without using either Osiewalski or Jim Higgins, another hurdlings star. Earlier this week, Ripon beat Carroll, 70-61, with Osiewalski running—and winning—on the high hurdles only.

Lawrence walloped an out-manned St. Norbert team, 91-40, in its initial dual meet. Oshkosh will be making its initial start.

Osiewalski, the Menasha flash, scored 105 points for Ripon last year and holds the Ripon collegiate records for the high and low hurdles and the 100-yard dash. He also won both hurdles titles in the '56 conference meet.

Pete Kasson, the Redmen's great all-round athlete from Clintonville, is hale and hearty and a threat in at least four events. In his team's triangular triumph, he took first in the pole vault and javelin and tied for first in the high jump. Against Carroll, Kasson won

Lawrence-Knox Game Postponed

The Lawrence-Knox baseball game, scheduled for this afternoon, has been postponed because of the muddy condition of the South Side Athletic club field. Coach Don Boya has announced.

No decision has been made on the Vike - Stevens Point game, slated for Saturday afternoon. It will be played, if conditions permit.

AHS Golfers Make Debut in Quadrangular

The Appleton High school golf team will open its season Saturday in a quadrangular meet at South Hills, Fond du Lac.

Others in the field will be Fondy, Oshkosh and Manitowoc.

For Appleton High's first golf start in history, Coach Dick Emanuel will choose five of these seven players as the school's representatives: Bob Ferrel, Bob Bauman, Dave Schuetter, Jim Reeve, Mike Smock, Jerry Parker and John Sullivan. A playoff today was to determine the final lineup.

league ball and knows there are common problems.

"I know that a large number of major league operators have sympathy with minor league problems," said Giles. It's unfortunate, he pointed out, that when one or two clubs follow some policy contrary to the best interest of the minors, all 16 major league clubs are lumped together in accusations of selfish moves.

"The most important factor in athletics is determination," was the advice Giles directed at the Foxes. "Human will is the most potent force in the world. It can stimulate us to perform beyond our rate of capacity."

The impact of a popular player goes far, Giles indicated. "Hour standards of sportsmanship, determination and effort make you a teacher to the public, and mostly to the youngsters in the stands."

Baseball has its serious side, Giles told his listeners, "but it's a game—and if you don't get fun out of it you're missing what it has to offer."

Giles told an anecdote about Willie Mays. As Giles presented Mays with the "most valuable player" award several years ago in the Polo grounds, he called the Giant outfielder the most exciting player in the National league. Later Willie, slightly confused by the compliment, said, "Mr. Giles, I don't get excited. I just pound my glove."

Institute '5' Wins Title in 'Y' Olympics

The Institute of Paper Chemistry captured the YMCA Olympics' basketball title Thursday night by downing Marathon, 62-58.

Big Don Carlson poured in 27 points to spark the victory. Tom Du Pont was high for Marathon with 19 points.

Each team scored 24 field goals, but IPC won it from the foul line.

Will Teach English

Jack Nagle to Coach JV's at Whitefish Bay

Milwaukee—Jack Nagle, who left unanswered a basket full of questions when he quit as Marquette university basketball coach last February, is going to teach ninth grade English and coach junior varsity basketball at Whitefish Bay High school starting next September.

This was confirmed Thursday by E. J. Zeiler, superintendent of school at suburban Whitefish Bay, and Harold Rose, principal at the high school.

The 40-year-old Nagle, a recognized basketball student and tactician, will succeed Bob Humke. Nagle will serve under head coach Nick Kuehl, a friend of long standing.

At one time he said he had had his fill of college coaching and did not consider it a come-down to be in the market for a high school position. He said he was primarily interested in the security and peace of mind of his family.

Nagle's resignation will not go into effect until June, but to all intents and purposes Nagle's ties at Marquette have been severed. His successor, 55-year-old Eddie Hickey, will take over shortly.

Snider Returns To the Lineup $275 Poorer

Los Angeles — Duke Snider, who tried to throw a ball out of the park and threw his arm out instead, is back at work poorer and sorer.

The Los Angeles Dodgers disciplined their premier flycatcher after he came up with a sore arm while engaging in a capricious throwing contest with Don Zimmer. The pair were trying to heave baseballs over the Coliseum stands — which rise 79 rows and 106 feet above the playing field—before Wednesday night's game with the Chicago Cubs.

When Snider was unable to play in the game, the club announced he would be docked a day's pay, about $275, and would draw no more pay until he was able to play again.

The Duke said his arm still hurt Thursday. "But at those prices," he said, "I've got to play." So he did, and went 1-for-3 as the Cubs tromped Los Angeles, 15-2.

Indians Hand Chicagoans 5th Loss In Row; Kansas City Wins, 4-3

By the Associated Press

Mr. "Nice Guy" is last in the American league.

For months now, genial Al Lopez has been confident that this is the year his Chicago White Sox win the pennant. He had the pitching to prevent a repeat of those disastrous 14 defeats in 22 games against the New York Yankees that killed Sox hopes last season.

So what happens? After nine games, his big staff has been able to win only two—and they haven't even had to play the Yankees yet.

The Big Four look like this: Billy Pierce (0-2), Dick Donovan (0-2), Early Wynn (1-1) and Jim Wilson (1-1). Only Billy Pierce, last year's 20-game winner, has managed a complete game.

Wilson, the veteran right-hander, didn't last three innings Thursday as the Cleveland Indians cuffed the White Sox, 6-4, for their fifth straight defeat and sent them to the cellar.

Kansas City reclaimed second place from Detroit, beating the Tigers, 7-2, and climbing within a game of the Yankees.

Washington, Boston won two straight for the first time, defeating Baltimore, 4-3, in 10 innings.

The Indians ripped Wilson for six hits, one Russ Nixon's home run, in his 2-3 innings while building a 5-0 lead. A 3-run third, capped by Chico Carrasquel's 2-run double, wrapped it up. Minnie Minoso, late of the Sox, drove in two with a single and homer.

Kansas City failed to hit a home run for the first time since opening day, but the ambitious A's slugged loser Bob Shaw and two relievers for 12 hits.

Dick Gernert's pinch single scored the winner for the Red Sox off reliever Billy O'Dell. Mike Fornicelli went all the way for his first victory, giving up seven hits, one a 2-run homer by Billy Gardner.

They'll Do It Every Time

Foxx Is Back On His Feet

Minneapolis Coach Can Still Hit Ball Out of Park

Minneapolis — A bat in his hands again, ballplayers to banter with, and all's right with the world for Jimmy Foxx.

Pudgy "Double X," the Hall of Fame slugger whose luck ran out and left him almost penniless this winter, is back on his feet as a coach with the Boston Red Sox' Minneapolis farm club in the American association.

Hearty, down-to-earth Jimmy talks without embarrassment about what happened in the winter. He says he didn't feel disgraced when news stories carried from coast-to-coast the account of a one-time public hero's pauperhood.

At 50, Foxx still gives an impression of tremendous physical strength. His hair is streaked with silver and he's wary about throwing in batting practice "cause I might not see that ball come back," but he can still do things with a bat.

A few days ago Manager Gene Mauch invited him to take a few swings at the tail-end of batting practice. There was time left for just two. Foxx fouled one off and pounded the next one out of the park.

In 20 years of playing he hit 534 balls like that, second only to Babe Ruth's 714.

Daryl Spencer Does It Again For 'Frisco

San Francisco — That extra time San Francisco's Daryl Spencer spent working on his batting this spring already has paid a couple of dividends into the victory column.

Twice in a row, in dramatically different ways, the 195-pound shortstop drove in runs with two out in the last half of the ninth inning that beat the St. Louis Cardinals.

So, going into the first game of a series of three with Chicago tonight, the Giants stand only a half-game behind the National league-leading Cubs. They each won three games from the other in spring training.

Spencer's home run with a mate on base Wednesday brought victory. Thursday, with the bases full, he tapped a slow roller down the third base line and beat it out for a hit as Danny O'Connell scored from third with a run that brought a 6-5 triumph.

Los Angeles — Hank Aceves, 123, Los Angeles, outpointed Noel Humphreys, 129 Los Angeles, 10.

Win Another Close One Giants Take Leaves From '51, '54 Books

By the Associated Press

The San Francisco Giants are following the same formula that paid off with 1951 and 1954 National league pennants for the club in New York: Win the close ones, and win 'em late.

In '51, the Giants led the league in 1-run victories, took the race into a playoff and won by coming from behind with one out in the last of the ninth, for a 5-4 decision in the final game.

In '54, they won better than half their close games, and came up with a hero's day in the late innings.

Cards Lose in 9th

At the moment, the Giants are hanging on, half a game behind the front-running Cubs, with last-inning heroics from Daryl Spencer. He banged a 2-run homer that capped a 6-run comeback in the last two frames for an 8-7 decision over St. Louis Wednesday.

Thursday he drove in the clinching run by beating out an infield hit for a 6-5 victory over the Cardinals, again with two out in the ninth.

The Cubs were less subtle, smashing the Los Angeles Dodgers, 15-2. Lee Walls, a kid who hit six home runs all last year, drove in eight runs by belting three homers over the left field screen in the collision.

Milwaukee beat Cincinnati, 6-2, and Pittsburgh rapped Philadelphia, 7-4.

The Cardinals, stumbling along in last place, blew a 3-run lead as Hank Sauer counted three for the Giants with his fourth and fifth home runs for the season. Ray Katt homered for a 5-4 St. Louis lead in the ninth, but then dropped a throw to the plate as the Giants scored the tying run. Ray Crone was the winner, Billy Muffett the loser, both in relief.

Bobby Thomson also homered for the Cubs, while the Dodger runs came on homers by Charlie Neal and Don Zimmer. Rookie Gene Fodge, making his first major league start, gave 10 hits, but won his first for the Cubs' first complete game. Don Drysdale lost it.

Pittsburgh's Bob Friend was two outs from a shutout, then needed Elroy Face's relief after Richie Ashburn's 2-run triple, and Bob Bowman's 2-

Tigers' Tighe Searches for Fifth Starter

Kansas City — If Detroit is to make a real run for the American league pennant, Manager Jack Tighe will have to find someone to pitch when Jim Bunning, Paul Foytack, Frank Larry or Billy Hoelt isn't throwing.

Right now, says Tighe, it isn't certain where he is going to find the man he needs.

"I'll stack my four starting pitchers against any of them, including Chicago's," says Tighe, "but we will have to see if our second line throwers can hold up their end."

Half an hour later Thursday afternoon, Tighe watched the Athletics shellack his starting run homer. Curt Simmons lost his second when the Bucs scored four in the third—three on first baseman Harry Anderson's error.

Lawrence Says:
Story of Year
Being Unfolded
In Congress

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington — The story of the year is being unfolded right now in congress.

It's the story of how labor-union money—contributed heavily in recent political campaigns—keeps a majority of members of congress from enacting laws that would do away with the rackets whereby the dues of the working men are stolen or misused.

It's the story also of how congress, though knowing full well how boycotts of innocent parties are used to further the aims of labor union, does nothing by way of legislation to correct the abuses.

It's the story of how goons and hired thugs intimidate American citizens who venture to assert their right to work and to cross picket lines.

Plenty of outrages are heard when "civil rights" are denied in other fields of constitutional law, but no such support is given the simple proposition that the American citizen must be free to join or not to join a union and, if he declines, that he must not for such reason alone be deprived of his job.

Against His Will
Today, in certain trades, a citizen cannot earn a livelihood unless he consents to become, against his will, a member of a labor union which can use his dues money to finance the election of candidates for public office with whose views the worker happens not to agree. Here is "thought control" and a denial of the basic principles embodied in the constitution itself.

Today to cross a picket line in a big strike is to jeopardize one's life. Local police authorities are intimidated by the political power of labor unions and do not give adequate protection to the citizen. Companies that are not parties to a strike are sometimes boycotted if they buy materials or goods from a company that is having a labor dispute.

Financial irregularities have been disclosed in about five major unions. Many of the other big unions have not been investigated as yet. Sen. McClellan of Arkansas, Democrat, has thrown the searchlight on the misuse of union funds. The newspapers have been printing articles about it for several months.

Time for Action
Now, however, the time has come for action. But it looks as if a majority in congress is itself intimidated. Privately many members say they would like to go ahead, but the Democratic party—which is more beholden to the labor unions than are the Republicans—doesn't want to put the legislation through this year because it fears that individual members might be hurt in the coming congressional election.

The plan all along has been to bury the legislation in committee in the senate. There was to be no voting on broad aspects of the labor-union problem. But Sen. William Knowland of California, Republican leader, took the bit in his teeth this week and decided to try for roll-call votes which would make every member answer to all the people and not just to the labor-union lobbies.

At first it was reported that there wouldn't be a chance for action. Sen. Knowland, however, determined to attach his proposals to the pending legislation on labor-union welfare and pension funds. He knew that the senate committee on labor wouldn't report out any broad legislation, so he decided to try to amend the bill on the floor of the senate. The Democratic leadership had to submit the matter to a vote or be put in the position of sidetracking the legislation.

A change came as the Democratic leadership in the Senate decided to go ahead with the voting.

Open Opportunity
Meanwhile, President Eisenhower was advised that he could not be indifferent to the opportunity opened up by Sen. Knowland's move. So Secretary of Labor Mitchell proposed some amendments that went beyond the welfare-and-pension provisions and sought correction of the year.

Heavy Season Ticket
Sales Cheer Officials
Of San Francisco '11'

San Francisco — You might expect the San Francisco 49er front office boys to be wearing the long, gloomy look. Some of their National Football league veterans are unhappy over contract talks. And a fine rookie, pass snatcher R. C. Owens, is talking seriously about switching to pro basketball.

Troubles: Maybe. But the 49er officials were cheered by good news — a season ticket sale of 18,744 compared with 8,294 a year ago. This despite a price hike of 75 cents to $4.50 a game; $27 for a book for all six home NFL games.

"We can safely predict another record breaking sale for the fourth straight year," said General Manager Lou Spadia today. The record is 20,737 set last year.

Welter Title
Fight Slated
Akims Early 13-10
Favorite Over
Vince Martinez

New York — Virgil Akims of St. Louis today was made the 13-10 betting choice to beat Vince Martinez of Paterson, N. J., in their world welterweight title bout at the St. Louis arena, June 6.

The two finalists in the welterweight elimination tournament each will receive $30,000 for the 15-rounder which will be broadcast and telecast (NBC).

The date and site for the championship fight was announced Thursday by the International Boxing club and promoter Emory Jones of St. Louis. The IBC will pay each fighter $15,000 from the radio-TV receipts. Jones has guaranteed each $15,000, against the privilege of 30 per cent of the gate.

The welter title has been vacant since Sept. 23, 1957, when Carmen Basilio was forced to yield it when he won the middleweight crown from "Sugar" Ray Robinson.

Durham Upsets
Walker Cup
Player Blum

Pinehurst, N. C. — Herb Durham of Dallas, who says he rarely plays golf out of Texas, and three veteran campaigners used to tournament pressures were bidding for semi-final victories in the North and South amateur today.

Durham, 33, was paired with Jack Penrose, 42, from Miami, Fla., in the first 18-hole battle. Dick Chapman, 47, Pinehurst entry who has sought the North and South title for 25 years, matched skills with Bill Hyndman, 42, from Abington, Pa., in the other contest.

Durham supplied the big surprise of the quarter-finals with a 3 and 1 conquest of Walter cupper Arnold Blum of Macon, Ga. Penrose stopped Bob Cochran of St. Louis, 1 up.

Chapman shot even par in a 2 and 1 victory over John Ward of Fayetteville, N. Y.

Hyndman trimmed Alex Welsh of Rockford, Ill., 5 and 3.

Paul Richards Says
Gus Triandos Isn't
For Sale or Trade

Boston — Baltimore Orioles Manager Paul Richards says Gus Triandos is not for sale, and he won't deal his hard hitting catcher off.

The Orioles mentor was answering a report from New York that the Boston Red Sox had made a strong bid for Triandos in return for center fielder Jim Piersall.

Active action on boycotts and picketing. He also sponsored a formula to insure secret elections of labor-union officers.

Though three days of debate were scheduled for the senate, the result was foreclosed in advance. There were so many conflicting currents that whatever the senate finally passed seemed already doomed to inaction in the house of representatives. The Democratic leadership in the house is ready to block legislation that the labor-union leaders oppose.

This labor-union dictatorship, using millions of dollars of workers' dues to exert political influence in staving off corrective legislation, still is on top. That's the story of the year — and, it might be added, the political scandal of the year.

Kasson shattered the Cornell relays javelin record earlier this season with a mighty heave of 199 feet, 1 inch. Last year he was second to Osiewalski as a Ripon winner, with 82 points.

Don Tomczak is another big Ripon threat in the field events. He tossed the shot 48 feet, 10 inches at Cornell for a relays record. Last weekend, he set a Ripon field record with 46-9.

Among Ripon's sophomore threats are Dick Celichowski, sprinter and broad jumper; and Vern Lewellen, Jr., quarter-miler.

Hurdler Larry Schmitz, the Titans' top point-getter last year; pole vaulter Larry Bruner; javelinist Don Akin; and distance runner Ned Callies are among Coach Bob Kolff's leading competitors.

Host Lawrence will field a number of competitors who'll be tough to beat. They include Gary Scovel, winner of four events Wednesday; miler Ted Pinkerton; half-mile Dave Mulford; shot-putter Gil Sutcliffe; discus-man John Winsor; 2-miler Ron Simon; and quarter-miler Len Hall.

Lee Walls Claims Coliseum
Is No Home Run Paradise

Los Angeles — Lee Walls balls hit here in our series that made it look ridiculously easy, yet he says the Los Angeles coliseum is not a home run paradise.

You'd think the Chicago Cub outfielder was joking, after his three homers for eight runs in the 15-2 massacre of the Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday. But Walls was straight-faced about it when he emerged from the dressing room.

"I really think it's just as easy to get home runs in the Polo grounds, for instance," he said. "I know, there's a lot of talk about the 250-foot left-field, foul line and that 42-foot fence here."

"But there were a lot of

Casper Leads
By 1 Stroke
At Las Vegas

Las Vegas, Nev. — California's Billy Casper, who rated no better than fifth in pre-battle golf prophecies, today was first in line as play swung into the second round of the $40,000 Tournament of Champions.

The 26-year-old professional from Apple Valley opened fire on the $10,000 target with a first round 33-32-65, seven blows under par for the 36-36-72 Desert Inn Country club course.

Casper's lead, despite a score that equalled the tournament and course record, was only one stroke ahead of the Toledo strong boy, Frank Stranahan. Alone at 68 was Gene Littler of San Diego.

the loser. The quartet gave up a total of nine walks and was guilty of a wild pitch and a balk.

The Braves pecked away at Lawrence for single runs in each of the first three innings. Twice, however, potential double plays went for only force-outs and that didn't help his peace of mind any.

In the first, "Red" Schoendienst and Bob Hazle singled and Aaron was walked intentionally after Eddie Mathews grounded out. Schoendienst crossed the plate on Joe Adcock's force.

Johnny Logan led off the second with a walk and went to second on Del Crandall's single. Spahn flied out, Logan going to third, and Schoendienst stroled filling the bases. Hazle's grounder looked like a dip ball, but the Redlegs managed only a force as Logan scored.

Aaron homered into a cross-wind in the third for the Braves' third run off Lawrence and then smashed one of Charlie Rabe's serves over center-field barricade in the fifth for the insurance run.

Hazle's leadoff single, walks to Aaron and pinch-hitter Frank Torre and Andy Pafko's sacrifice fly produced the Braves' fifth run in the seventh. They got their final tally in the ninth on singles by Aaron and Pafko sandwiched around an infield out.

Frick Will Present
World Series Rings
To Braves Saturday

New York — (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick goes to Milwaukee Saturday where he will present world series rings to the 1957 Braves who defeated the New York Yankees for the world championship.

The commissioner also will present the Cy Young memorial plaque to Warren Spahn, Braves' southpaw, who was voted the outstanding pitcher of 1957.

Monday Frick will be in Chicago where he will attend a meeting of the major leagues territorial rights committee and to study ideas toward possible expansion to 10-team major leagues.

Plion Comes Home First in
'Blue Grass'

Lexington, Ky. — Plion and Warren G. proudly displayed their Kentucky derby diplomas today after a surprising 1-2 finish in the $33,650 Blue Grass stakes.

Plion, a juvenile stakes winner who'd won barely enough to pay for his oats this season, splashed a muddy 1 1/4 mile at Keeneland in 1:52 4-5 Thursday to earn his Derby ticket.

Warren G., the pace setter most of this derby prep, was only 1/4 length in arrears at the finish and earned a trip to Louisville as Flamingo finished third and the favored Can Trust fourth among nine 3-year-olds.

Bruton Gets Green Light
To Return to Action

Haney Will Have To Cut 5 Men
By May 15

Bruton
means there are five too many players on Milwaukee's list.

The who-to-cut puzzle is in the hands of Quinn and a difficult one it is.

The only players he can send down to the minors without first obtaining waivers from the other clubs are Carleton Willey, a righthander who won 21 games at Wichita, Kan., last season and appears ready to make his big league mark, and "Casey" Wise, a utility infielder who led the Braves in batting this spring with a lofty .455 mark.

At this point they seem sure to draw pink slips.

Two other good possibilities are Humberto Robinson and Don Kaiser, two more right-handers. Robinson's options are up and he is sure to be claimed by some other major league club.

Kaiser, another former Cub, can only be optioned out if the Braves can obtain waivers on him.

Two other former good-bets to go — Mel Roach and Harry Hanebrink — now are good-bets to stay. Roach, "Red" Schoendienst's understudy, recently played first base, left field and right field and looked good at all three positions. Hanebrink, too, proved himself in the out-rosters to 25 players. With Bru-field as Wes Covington's re-ton back in business again, this placement.

When the season started Bruton, who has not played a game for the Braves since he was injured in an outfield collision in Pittsburgh last summer, was placed on the disabled list for 30 days. The period will expire May 15.

Put Off Action On Physician For One Month

City Health Board Has Two Expressions Of Interest So Far

What to do about replacing Dr. William C. Felton, who resigned as city physician and health officer, won't be decided for another month, the board of health decided today.

Dr. Marvin Kagen has offered to become a part-time health commissioner and Dr. Stephen Konz has expressed an interest in taking the city physician duties on a part-time basis. Dr. Carl Neidhold, board chairman, said.

Neither, however, has placed his name in consideration by a formal letter of application. Dr. Felton's resignation takes effect May 1.

Confirm Dr. Jones
The board today confirmed its earlier selection of Dr. D. L. Jones for meat inspector. It also will recommend to the council on May 7 that Dr. Jones be paid $3,486 a year and that he receive an unspecified car allowance.

Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell said the salary and car allowance question will be referred by the council to its finance committee for study and a recommendation. The salary would take effect May 8, day after the council meeting, if the council approves.

Dr. Jones, a veterinarian, told the board he is unwilling to work mornings.

Deputy City Health Officer Claude N. Greisch said the need is for a meat inspector who will spot check the city's sausage makers.

Survey Ordered
Whether afternoons only will work is unknown. The board approved Greisch's plan whereby Dr. Jones will make a month's survey of sausage makers' schedules.

The $3,486 salary for Dr. Jones is Step 2 of a 3-step salary plan for meat inspectors.

Mrs. Dorothy Stillings reported that through no fault of Dr. William Madson, previous meat inspector, the city was paying him 38 cents a mile for car allowance and something over $6 an hour for inspection duties.

The car allowance, not only for the meat inspector post, but also all other city jobs, needs revision, she said. The salary ought not be changed, she said, since it is expected Dr. Jones will be spending more time on his annual salary accomplishing inspection duties.

Dr. Neidhold said he has not received a report from the state board of health about what to do in getting supervision by a physician over school nurses. He promised a reply shortly.

Grant Bee License
In other action, C. C. Meyer, 1921 N. Ballard road, a beekeeper for about 30 years, was granted a license to keep bees.

Neighbors complained to him by telephone, Greisch said, that Meyer's bees had stung some children. Meyer said he didn't know how the complainant knew his bees were involved.

Board members felt they had no right to deny the license—first Meyer has ever obtained—since he has been in business at the same location for 30 years, more than 20 of them before the area was annexed to the city.

Meyer said he normally keeps but eight to 10 hives in his back yard, but lately has had more as he received hives from the south to replace winter losses.

Youths Say They Were Just After Wisdom, Not Fish

Judge Oscar J. Schmieg got a novel explanation from two youths charged with having a fish trap when they appeared in municipal court today.

Roger Haut and Leon Gunderson, both 17 and both of route 2, Clintonville, told the judge they had the fish trap to get specimens for their biology class. They indicated it was all for the pursuit of knowledge.

Judge Schmieg was not swayed. He gave them each a year's probation, on the condition that they don't violate game laws for the next year, and ordered them to pay court costs of $3.20 each. The youths were put in the county jail until this afternoon.

Foremost Dairies Maintained 1957 Sales, Profit Pace

New York — Preliminary estimates for the first quarter indicate Foremost Dairies, Inc., parent organization of Appleton's Western Condensing company, was able "to maintain sales and net earnings after taxes and excluding non-recurring items, at approximately the level of a year ago," Paul E. Reinhold, chairman, said at the annual meeting.

In the first three months of 1957, Foremost earned $3,185,028 equal to 43 cents a share on net sales of $94,417,980. However, the net income included non-recurring income of $1,299,864 equal to 18 cents a share which came from the sale of certain securities. In the first quarter of 1956, the company earned $2,147,803 equal to 29 cents a share, on sales of $86,746,592.

Asked by a shareholder about the dividend, Reinhold replied, "We are going to try as hard as we can to maintain the one dollar annual dividend." After the meeting, the directors voted to declare the regular quarterly dividend of 25 cents a common share, payable July 1 to shareholders of record June 16.

Compare Favorably
Commenting on second quarter prospects, Reinhold said, "Dairy product sales are experiencing their normal seasonal upswing at this time and right now compare favorably with those of a year ago."

When a stockholder asked for a forecast of sales and earnings for the year, Reinhold replied, "We'll be able to predict a lot more after we see the next three months." He added that the Foremost management "views the rest of the year with confidence."

A shareholder, Isadore Blau, lodged several complaints including a charge that the company's annual report was incomplete. Mr. Reinhold said the report contained "everything that is needed" but he added that management would take Blau's complaint under consideration.

Trend Uneven On Exchange

Fractional Gains And Declines for Most of List

New York — (U.S.A.) — Stock market prices moved irregularly in active trading just below the newest 1950 high early this afternoon.

Most gains and losses of key stocks were fractional but there were a few wider moves. Chrysler was an exception, showing a loss of well over two points in brisk dealings. The company reported a $15 million first quarter loss and cuts its dividend to 25 cents from 75 cents after the New York market close Thursday.

Bethlehem Steel traded about unchanged in fairly brisk dealings. The second biggest steel-maker declared the regular dividend late Thursday while announcing first quarter earnings which did not match the payout.

Oils were ahead by a narrow margin. There were gains among major steels, chemicals, rails and selected issues. U.S. Steel, which reports on first quarter earnings and dividends next week, gained a major fraction. Youngstown sheet advanced about two points.

General Motors rose a good fraction. Ford was firm. American Motors, dropped a fraction in brisk turnover. Management has denied merger rumors.

Union Carbide and Du Pont were ahead around a point. Long-range U.S. government bonds declined.

Chicago Grain

Chicago — (U.S.A.) — No wheat or soybeans. Corn No. 2 yellow 1-33; No. 4 yellow 1.22; Oats No. 4 white 60.
